City auction is great success

Every item on the auction block was sold and if that's an indication of success, then the inaugural City of Romulus and Romulus Community Schools' auction "was a tremendous success" last week.

Bidders purchased school buses, vans, office equipment and when auctioneer Fred Junior Block, who serves as a city councilman finished, there was more than $25,000 in the coffers.

Will the auction be an annual affair?

"Unfortunately we usually don't have that many items to auction off," said Pat Hogan, the city's Director of Community Development. "We would like to think we could make this an annual affair. This one was a tremendous success."

LeCesne named to committee

Dr. Terrel M. LeCesne, Assistant Superintendent of the Romulus Community Schools, recently was appointed as a voting member on the Institutional Self-Study Steering Committee for Wayne County Community College.

Dr. LeCesne will basically represent the out-Wayne County area on the committee.

The steering committee was established by the interim President, Dr. Thomas F. Walters, in preparation for the formal North Central accreditation evaluation scheduled for the 1983-84 academic year.

Downtown to receive facelift

Like an elegant lady who may need surgery to remove some of the time-worn wrinkles on her face, Romulus will soon get a facelift.

Starting from its streets and moving to its buildings, the revitalization process that was launched 3½ years ago is beginning to bear fruit. And the Romulus Central Business District Association should receive ample credit for launching the ambitious program.

The RCBDA, with a charter membership of eight businessmen who contributed $12,000 for a study and then picked up $6,000 in additional monies from the city, saw the potential in the revitalization.

"The revitalization must succeed if downtown Romulus is to be preserved and strengthened to become a more vital link in providing goods and services," the study noted. The study was prepared by Christopher Wzacny and Associates, city planners for Romulus.

The study also noted that in the 36 square miles which represents the City of Romulus there is only one commercial area that can be characterized as a shopping center — the "Old Downtown".

Without downtown, Romulus would be a city without any commercial focus, void of the principals attributed to a city that has approximately 21,000 residents.

Revitalizing downtown Romulus

The members of the Romulus Central Business District Association are watching as their "pet project", the revitalization of the downtown area moves into first gear with the renovation of sidewalks and new landscaping. Some of the members of the RCBDA who are responsible for the ambitious project include Louis Fabrizio, (from left), Tony Popas, Joyce Palmer, Leo Blutz and Leo Kalota.

Whise, Family Pharmacy, were the key to the project.

Two more recent members are: Joyce Palmer, Arc Real Estate, Inc., and Midge Prybyla, Beautification Chairperson. Officers of the RCBDA are: Bill Simonds, President, Joyce Palmer, Secretary and Ken Whise, Treasurer.

"A successful revitalization process will ensure that Romulus does not become a City without a heart, a city without a downtown or commercial center. And if success is achieved, the city will benefit, if it fails, the City can only be hurt", Mrs. Palmer said.

A central business district that succeeds means demand for more floor space, increased rentals and occupancy and property values and, consequently, greater revenues through property and business taxes.

"Furthermore, the character and vitality of a commercial district directly influences the viability, value and stability of residential properties and other investments in the vicinity. A decaying district is a first sure signal that deterioration will occur in adjoining residential areas if remedial action is not taken.

The failure of revitalization has directly opposite implications. Revenues to the city decline while the cost of providing municipal services to the district increases.

The businesses and city have joined together to work toward solving the problems and deficiencies which exist. Revitalization, however, is not one action nor even a set of actions; it is a continuing process. It requires commitment and diligence over a long period of time by both the city and the business community. The city's role is imperative, for only the city has the legal authority and resources necessary to control and implement many of the needed improvement actions.

Romulus loses a 'dear friend'

Civic leader, educator Carl Morris dead at 66

Carl Morris devoted more than half of his life to serving his community, state and nation.

The 66-year-old member of one of the earliest Romulus families has served on the Romulus Board of Education for 28 years, was a member of the Wayne Intermediate School Board and was also a member of the Board of Directors of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority.

Friday night, Mr. Morris succumbed to an apparent heart attack. He was buried yesterday after services at Community United Methodist Church.

Words of praise and sympathy were spoken by the many who came to eulogize Mr. Morris. He was called a "friend of Romulus" and a "civic leader" and a "man who gave freely of himself to do good for all".

"I knew Carl for over 30 years," said Congressman William Ford. "And I never thought of him as a Democrat or a Republican - there was never a political label - but he was a leader, a cheerleader of his community and he never left any doubt that he was ready to serve his community, the state and his nation."

The founder and co-owner of the Huron Valley Oil Company, Mr. Morris had been a fuel and oil distributor in Wayne County for more than 35 years.

Mr. Morris also served on the Romulus School Board and, during his 27-year tenure, was elected president several times. He was president of the Wayne Intermediate School Board and was a past president of the Michigan Association of School Boards.

"Carl was one of those people who will be missed by as many people throughout the state as he will be in his own hometown," said Dr. William Bedell, Superintendent of Romulus public school. "His contributions in education to Romulus, Wayne County and the State of Michigan will last forever."

For the past 11 years Mr. Morris was also a member of the PCHA board. He served as executive on many of the hospital board's committees.

Mayor William Oakley said that the city and the community has "lost a great friend".

"Mr. Morris had the city and the community foremost in his mind," Mayor Oakley continued. "There was no assignment too tough for him to tackle when it came to the best interests of this city and its residents. We have lost a great friend and public servant."

State Representative Edward E. Mahalak said that he had worked on many projects with Mr. Morris, and that "Carl was a man who loved doing things for others. He is a man whom we will all miss."

Councilman Jimmie Raspberry praised Mr. Morris as "a civic leader and a friend to all people. I have known him for over 25 years. He always had the best interests of Romulus in mind and he was a leader in education and civic projects whom we all followed and trusted. He made Romulus a better place to live for all of us."

A member of a pioneering Romulus family that settled in the area in the 1850's, Morris has deep roots in the township and in the area. He is survived by his wife, Beulah, and four sons: Thomas, Douglas, Larry and James. He is also survived by four grandchildren - Eric, Kristin, Heather and Bradley.

Mr. Morris is also survived by two sisters: Pearl Morris and Mrs. Fred (Helen) Hay and was preceded in death by a sister, Marion Diepenhorst.

Schools ask for teacher concessions

A "distressed and angry" Romulus teachers' union apparently is ready to fight the school board and the administration if a reported proposal for a 22 percent across-the-board salary cutback becomes a negotiations' issue.

In a release to its members, the Wayne County Michigan Education Association, which represents the local teachers, pointed out that "On Sept. 21, one week after passage of the millage renewal, representatives of the board (school board) presented the union with a proposal to reduce teachers' salaries by 22 percent."

"The freeze discussions were officially killed. Management was pursuing a course which the parents' groups indicated was '... not the answer to relieving our pain ...'."

"Management was taking the 'hard line' that the parents' groups cautioned '... will create irreparable damage to the relationship ...', the MEA release stated.

Contacted by the Romulus Roman, Superintendent of Schools William Bedell said that the board did ask for some concessions from the teachers.

"We are asking the teachers for some needed and crucial concessions so that this school district can survive and remain afloat economically. At this point we're at the negotiating table. What course those talks will take is very important to each and every resident and student in this city," Dr. Bedell said.

The teachers had agreed upon a "salary freeze" during the recent campaign to get voter approval of a tax renewal. The millage renewal was defeated in the annual school election, but was again placed on the ballot on Sept. 13. It gained voter support at that time.

The MEA release concludes, "... that the union has no choice but to protect the interests of its teachers by reverting to a more aggressive approach to bargaining. Its initial demands are considered a necessary and appropriate response to the initial proposal of the Board."

Sumpter resumes toxic waste permit debate

Public hearing scheduled today on City Sand's application

The Michigan Hazardous Waste Site Approval Board, considering an application from City Sand and Landfill for a permit to dump hazardous waste in Sumpter Township, will face another standing room only crowd when it meets today (Oct. 13) at 4:30 p.m. in the township hall.

City Sand and Landfill has requested that the board, which has the final authority to approve or deny the hazardous waste disposal facility's construction, allow it to expand its present facility at 46805 Willow Run so that they may accept hazardous waste.

The board, according to state law, has held several public hearings to receive input from residents before making a final determination on the application.

The board, made up of state and local officials, held a hearing last week and members heard a wide array of objections to the proposed landfill expansion. Among charges levied at the state board was that "it had not assembled all necessary data to form an objective opinion about the effects toxic waste would cause on the immediate environment and residents."

One resident was adamant. The citizen said that the fate of the application should be left in the hands of the voters. They should be given an opportunity, via the ballot box, to determine whether City Sand and Landfill permit should be approved.

State Rep. Edward

Mahalak also was in the audience. He urged residents not to assume that the state board had already approved the landfill's application, but to present concrete and hard facts and figures so that this board can act upon them.

Thomas Handyside,

City Sand's vice president, was available to answer questions. He also produced a synthetic piece of material which he said is used to line areas of excavation which prevents the toxic material from seeping out into the land and into the water line.

Romulus resident attends Western

A Romulus resident was among the 2,150 students who enrolled as freshmen this fall at Western Michigan University, according to Raymond A. Passkiewicz, director of orientation at WMU.

The new student is Lisa White, who spent three days on campus living in residence halls, meeting with academic advisors, taking placement tests and registering for classes during the summer orientation.

Downtown Romulus to get a 'facelift'

'Revitalization is key to a viable city'

These efforts stimulated other to join, they being as follows: Dr. Ray Elwart, Romulus Chiropractic Clinic, Eugene Perecki, Walters Bar and Romulus Recreation Center, Martha Wensko, Romulus Postmaster, Jean Smith, Manager, Romulus Towers, Casmir Kasperak, Metro Radiator, Dr. William Bedell, Superintendent of Romulus Schools, Bruce Burnett, Piper Engineering, John Brimble, Captain Nemos, Larry Boelter, Ornamental Design, Bill and John Crova, Crova Sales and Services, Mel Wilson, Wilson Dairy Bar, Art Agoubi, Greenfriar Market, Jack Bradley, All Around Glass, Calvin Johnson, Johnson, Rowe and Vaughn, John Wagner, Unclaimed Freight and Lumber Yard, Stanley Ozga, Romulus Greenhouse, Dave Rakotz, Daves Barber Shop and Horace Stephens, Stephens Pharmacy.

The results of the combined efforts led to the formation of the Downtown Development Authority (DDA) which again was a fine tribute through dedication of the Business people and the city.

With the able assistance of Patrick Hogan, City Grants Director, his expertise led to approval of an application for a total of $127,000 from the Block Grant Funding program. This was one of the few of this size approved in the Detroit Metropolitan area. Due recognition goes to Mr. Hogan for his efforts in obtaining this much needed funding.

The first phase and use of the $127,000 has been designated for new sidewalks, curbs, new street lights, street furniture, trees and other landscaping.

The businesses have already led the way to the revitalization as within the last year and a half, they have spent approximately $600,000 of improvements to their businesses.

Recent construction of the 160 unit, now fully occupied, Senior Citizens Romulus Towers building emphasises the need for better and more shopping facilities. A proposed Post Office will help the needs of the residents.

Congressman William Ford recently announced that Romulus will have a new post office to be completed in late 1983.

Two men, Leo Kalota and Carl Morris, spearheaded the drive for the postal facility. They worked on a complete package preparation for presentation of Congressman Ford. They were very instrumental in the final approval for this much needed Post office.

The Romulus Central Business District Association and its active members say they will continue to work on other needed projects. They are diligently working towards efforts to fulfill the Strategy and Design Plan. The first phase is just the beginning. Other projects are to hopefully obtain funds through Grants for renovation of the Goddard Road area from Wayne Road to the C & O Railroad, Northside Goddard Rd. parking (Central District area), and on and on.

They also annually hold a Romulus Downtown Days. Plans are now underway for 1983.

Lawsuits peril county loan

$10 million is needed to meet payroll

Two lawsuits against Wayne County, perhaps concluding this week, might jeopardize the borrowing of $10 million and add to the uncertainty of payday schedules, said Samuel A. Turner, the chairman of the County Board of Commissioners.

The County is enduring a cash-flow shortage, temporarily relieved by the borrowing of $10 million two weeks ago, but Turner said $10 million more is needed to assure uninterrupted paydays through Nov. 30.

Both suits come from Council 25 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME), which represents about 75 percent of the County's 3400 employees. One asks for the immediate payment of a cost-of-living allowance (COLA) due since August, the other would rescind the layoffs of about 180 employees displaced on Oct. 4.

recommendations from various County departments and agencies start this week and will continue throughout October and November. A new budget is scheduled for adoption by Dec. 1, when fresh tax revenues and other monies become available.

Past borrowing and the borrow proposed offers this anticipated revenue as collateral. No State funds are involved in the borrowing, but the MFC must approve all such loan requests for all governmental units throughout the State.

Said Turner, "It is necessary for us to be able to borrow the additional $10 million if we have to pay COLA and maintain paydays as scheduled. Without the additional $10 million we need for both, one or the other will have to be sacrificed."

"We are taking steps day-by-day to comply with the MFC to qualify

For Heritage Day 1982 the Romulus Historical Society erected a historical Samuel Tobyn marker on the site where this first Romulus settler lived with his family in the wilderness in 1827. This is designated as local historic site #5 by the Romulus Historical Society. The nine-foot redwood and pentatreated sign is covered by a gable roof and is erected at 30617 Henry Ruff Road, corner of Van Road, on the property of Rush's Flowers for the public to enjoy.

Funds are needed to complete the cost of this permanent historical marker. Anyone wishing to help pay for this project, please contact one of the following: Gloria Chandler, treasurer, 941-2678; Pearl Varner, Vice-President, 697-9628; Helen Morris Hay, Secretary, 941-0728. Romulus Historic Society has friend in accounting firm

The Romulus Historic Society has a friend in the accounting world.

He's Frank Smythe, a CPA in the firm of Post, Smythe, Lutz and Ziel based in Wayne. Smythe and his firm has helped the growing local historic society maintain a stable economic keel as they go about their business accumulating historic data and facts.

Smythe has just completed the Historical Society's Annual Report for Non-Profit Corporations in the State of Michigan. This report, and several others, are compiled by Smythe each year free of charge for the Historical Society.

Without Smythe's generosity, the Romulus Historical Society says it could not maintain its Non-profit Corporation status, Internal Revenue Tax-Exempt status, and Charitable Trust Organization standing. Each of these reports must be completed and filed annually.

The Historical Society's program for October will be held on Wednesday, October 20 from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. in the Romulus City Hall Council Chambers. The public is invited to hear Bob Donahue from the City of Monroe talk on "Dating Historical Architecture". Individuals are asked to bring pictures (slides are preferred) of any house or other structure that they would like to have dated for historical purposes.

FRANK SMYTHE

Donahue will give a slide presentation and narration illustrating different types of architecture that were built during different time periods. Following the narration, Donahue will answer questions and discuss the pictures that are brought in by individuals.

Foreign exchange student likes life here

South America to Romulus, with love

Although he admits he sometimes doesn't understand Americans, Juan Carlos Roa, a handsome young man from Bogota, Colombia, South America, is quick to point out "that he loves life in America".

The 18-year-old Juan Carlos is an exchange student who is sponsored by the Romulus Rotary Club. His one-year stay in Romulus began on January 17, 1982 when he arrives at Detroit Metro Airport where he was greeted by his host families and several members of the Romulus Rotary Club including the president, Gilbert White, Jr., Gerry Gomes, his wife, and John Domas.

Domas, Youth Project Chairman of the Rotary and also a Romulus Senior High Counselor, said that "Juan Carlos has made a fine adjustment to life in the United States."

A large and colorful "Welcome Juan Carlos" banner, prepared by Mark Anderson's Romulus High School art students, greeted Juan Carlos as he disembarked from the plane.

Carlos will be staying in the country for a full year and will return to his country in January of 1983. Upon his return he will enter the University to study law.

Juan's first host family, Pete and Frances DiBenedetto of 34572 Julie Dr., Romulus together with their children Dan, Kim, Tracey and Mickey, were among those on hand to greet Juan. Also, in the welcoming party was the family of Dan and Carole Bales of 15446 Anthony Street, Romulus together with their sons, Bob and Brian and daughter, Becky.

Don (Romulus Rotary) and Connee Morris, residing at 37545 Walnut Dr., Romulus together with their children Eric and Kristine will serve as Juan's third host family.

All three families will host Juan for approximately four months. At the present time Juan is living with Dan and Carole Bales but will shortly accept the hospitality of Don and Connee Morris.

Some of the many activities Juan Carlos has experienced since his arrival include: Red Wing Hockey at the Joe Louis Arena, snowmobiling, ice skating, bowling, ice capades, Harlem Globetrotters, Society of Engineer Show at Cobo Hall, the Auto Show, shopping centers, Hyatt Regency, Romulus City Council, Romulus School Board, 34th District Court, Huron Valley Steel, Detroit Diesel, Metro Airport Control Tower, Greenfield Village, Detroit Tigers.

One of the highlights of Juan's stay has been a Rotary sponsored bus tour of 23 states covering over 8,000 miles. This was a fun-filled trip as well as an enriching educational experience. Juan's tour companions were, like himself, Rotary sponsored foreign exchange students brought together from Rotary clubs all over the mid-west.

If you think your family would like to serve as a host family, or you wish to learn more about this exciting program you may contact John Domas at Romulus Sr. High School by calling 941-2170, ext. 48.

Romulus police round up some would-be cattle rustlers

Instead of rounding up possible suspects of a reported break-in of a dwelling, Romulus police found themselves playing cowboys Friday morning.

Responding to a call on the city's northside, Romulus police arrived at the scene and spotted a U-Haul van in the driveway of a house. On further investigation, police said they discovered the van contained seven black Angus cows, three of them dead.

Officer Sam Chalton said that he wasn't sure how the cows had died. The mystery of the cattle was partially cleared up when a report reached the city from St. Clair County Sheriff's Department that several cattle had been reported stolen from a farm in that area.

Romulus police took into custody two young men and questioned them. No charges have been filed, however, the investigation continues.

Mother Waddles is guest speaker at Springhill

"Christian Women Reaching Out to Help Mankind" is the theme for the Springhill Baptist Church's annual Women's Day commemoration.

The church, located at 3655 Springhill, will observe the special day beginning at 11 a.m., Sun. Oct. 17.

The main speaker is Rev. Charlesetta Waddles, "The Angel of the Poor". She is the founder of the Perpetual Soul Saving Mission for All Nations located in Detroit.

Mother Waddles' Mission has been open for three decades during which time thousands of needy people have received assistance. She was recently honored at Cobo Hall by Friends of Detroit in recognition of her many years of service to the needy.

Rev. Bob Way of the Belleville United Presbyterian Church will be teaching a new member's class after churching during the month of October.

There will also be a "Pot Luck Dinner" scheduled for noon Sun.,

Oct. 17 at the church, located at 11900 Belleville Rd. The dinner, the church's annual Harvest Dinner, will honor Rev. and Mrs. Robert Way and their family.

Also, the Evening Circle met last night and one of their projects was literally a sweet one. They made candy.

The St. James United Methodist Church is presenting the "Gospel Chorus" of the Vernon Chapel A.M.E. Church of Detroit in concert.

The concert is scheduled for 5 p.m., Sun. Oct. 24 at the Henry E. Fortson Auditorium, Inkster High School, 3250 Middlebelt Rd., Inkster.

The Gospel Chorus is directed and accompanied by the professor Kenneth W. Miner, assisted by John Tipton.

There is a $5 donation. Tickets may be obtained from Wynell Johnson, chairperson of the Administration Council, 5330 Middlebelt Road, Westland. Telephone 721-6917 for further information.

Belleville awaits bloodmobile unit

Did you know that approximately 1,000 pints of blood are needed everyday within the five-county area of southeastern Michigan?

Patients suffering from heart disease, leukemia, hemophilia, victims of accidents and mothers in childbirth are some of the people who receive this precious substance.

The next person who needs blood could be you — or a member of your family. Anyone of us may need blood today or tomorrow, and donating after an emergency doesn't guarantee anything, because it takes time to process blood.

So help to maintain an adequate blood supply in the Community by making your pledge now to donate blood at the Belleville-Community Blood Drive. The Red Cross bloodmobile will be here in Belleville on Monday, Oct. 25, from 2 p.m. to 7:45 p.m. It will be located at the Belleville High School auditorium and is being sponsored by the Belleville Business and Professional Womens Club.

Past donors will be called for appointments and sent cards as reminders. New donors are needed and most welcome.

Call Helen White at 697-9692, or Midge Artley at 697-5761, to volunteer. Remember, blood was meant to circulate — keep it flowing.

Tell me about your high gas heating bills and I'll tell you how you can save up to 20%* with Ameri-Therm.

For years I've talked with people who are tired of wasting fuel and money. Gas rates keep going up, so they come to me for advice.

Every day, for homeowners like you, I correct the money-wasting problem of gas energy loss with Ameri-Therm® Vent Dampers.

The problem is very common: When a furnace, boiler or water heater shuts off, warm air is quickly lost up the chimney. Energy escapes, but you still end up paying for it.

People want to save as much as they can, so I tell them to keep heat inside with an Ameri-Therm Vent Damper.

Ameri-Therm is the thermally actuated vent damper that's:

- Proven in millions of locations.
- Saves up to 20%* on fuel bills.
- Popular choice of American homeowners.
- Five year limited warranty.
- Thermally actuated to operate efficiently with no wires, electricity, or other power source.
- Eligible for 15% tax credit.
- Available for gas furnaces, boilers and water heaters.

Resource Recovery

Recycling may solve never-ending sludge problem

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third and final article in a three-part series on landfills.

The media's emphasis on hazardous waste, irate residents, and covert dumping of poisonous materials has dimmed its desire to tell the other side of the story. Public confusion and fear, as a result, are hindering the search for new landfill acreage by county officials.

With two of five county landfills nearly exhausted and solid waste piling up at the rate of 35,000 cubic yards per day — enough to pack Tiger Stadium every two weeks — the 43 communities in Wayne County may find themselves scrambling to find places to hide their rubbish.

Outcounty residents, confused over Public Acts 641 and 64, are unified in their resistance to the development or enlargement of present landfills unless they are certain their areas will not be tainted by poisonous wastes.

"Creating safe landfills is not nearly as exciting as finding pollutants," County Commissioner Clarence R. Young, Chairman of the county's Solid Waste Management Committee, observed. "But the day the rubbish collector fails to make his weekly rounds will be the day when safe landfills become a headline issue," he said.

The 13-member Wayne County Solid Waste Management Committee must come up with a master plan by July, 1983.

"The ultimate key to the problem" asserted Maurice Roach, Director of the county's Planning Commission, "is resource recovery — the ability to convert the refuse into useable energy or by-products. So far, 25 cities and townships have developed parts of such plans," he added.

Wayne County's master waste management 5 and 20 year plan includes a number of goals and objectives calculated to protect the health, safety and welfare of its citizens in insuring that all environmental laws, rules and regulations are adhered to and enforced.

The Plan will preserve and enhance the county's land, air and water by abating and eliminating pollution of all types associated with waste disposal; conserve, recover and minimize the depletion of resources through recycling and utilization of solid waste as an energy source; and improve the economic and social environment which is conducive to the County of Wayne in achieving its maximum developmental potential.

Oakland County's Waste Management Plan is nearing completion and is expected to be submitted to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (M-DNR) by the year's end. George Schutte, that County's Supervisor of Solid Waste, has had to face the wrath of angry residents and local governmental officials as have members of Wayne County's Solid Waste Management Committee.

"The five and twenty year plan is designed to lead Wayne County toward the objective of relying less on sanitary landfills and more on resource recovery," Roach said.

Landfill sites in Canton, Van Buren and Sumpter townships and the City of Riverview are the main recipients of county refuse with some being sent to Salem township in Washtenaw County and to Macomb County.

Resource recovery is not new and received only scant consideration until gas shortages and high prices in the mid '70's resulted in crash programs to develop other sources of energy.

Now, with the availability of gasoline and oil, the search by large corporations and the federal government to create alternate fuels from coal and exotic gases has given way to programs to convert our solid waste materials into cheap energy and reusable products.

Recycling centers for used oil have popped up in 154 county locations. An estimated 4 million gallons are dumped annually in Wayne County and until now, most of it has been poured down drains, in vacant lots and along river banks and swamps. Nearly every community in Wayne County has from one to 41 such recycling stations and residents have been urged through newspaper ads and mail to make use of these centers. This is, perhaps, a minor example of resource recovery, but it is a start.

Five communities composing the Central Wayne County Sanitation Authority — Inkster, Wayne, Westland, Garden City and Dearborn Heights — are preparing plans to eliminate air pollution at their incinerator plant and add on generator and turbine units to provide electric power for Edison and

Views On Dental Health

By PHILIP MEIZELS, D.D.S.

WHY REPLACE MISSING TEETH?

Why is it so essential that missing teeth be replaced, even if they are in a part of the mouth that doesn't show?

For starters, the teeth on either side of the space may drift into the space and close it. This is unhealthy, since the roots of our teeth are designed to absorb stress in a vertical direction. When a tooth tilts, it is no longer taking the stress the way nature intended. The result may be periodontal pockets (separation between gum and teeth) causing food traps, gum disease and decay. This will require further dental treatment and, possibly, premature loss of these additional teeth.

Also there is the problem of the tooth directly above or below the space. Without the bite pressure on it, it may move upward or downward into the open space, causing a problem of tripping the teeth as you move the jaw from side to side. This will tend to loosen the adjoining teeth and lead to further lost teeth. In a nutshell, if you have missing teeth, they should be replaced as soon as possible to prevent the "Domino Effect" of further tooth loss.

A public service to promote better dental health. From the office of PHILIP MEIZELS, D.D.S., 9840 Haggerty Rd., Belleville, Phone 697-4400.

The excitement among our employees has been accelerating for three weeks. Planning Meetings first as to the theme; then meetings almost every evening after work shaping and paper macheing the chickens, and the life size cow. The Animal Families silhouetted against Howard Street (now Goddard) were all cut and painted by the employees. The shingles were cut from carboard, stapled on cardboard and painted — they look like the real thing. The red barn was constructed of cardboard and painted by the employees. The old outhouse was made from old barn wood and looks so authentic. All the work was planned by the employees and all the signs were painted by them.

Belleville BPW marks Business Women's Week

The Belleville Business and Professional Womens Club will be observing National Business Women's Week next week with breakfast and a special church service Sunday, Oct. 17.

National Business Women's Week, established at the 1927 national BPW convention, will be observed Oct. 17 through Oct. 23 nationwide. The week is dedicated to publicizing the contributions of women to the business and professional world.

The Belleville BPW members will gather at 8:15 a.m. Sunday at the Brass Belle Restaurant on Sumpter Road for breakfast, before attending church services at 10:30 a.m. at the First United Methodist Church, 417 Charles St., Belleville.

The week, which has received the commendation of every president since Herbert Hoover, also has been recognized by Belleville Mayor Justin Emerson, who last week signed a proclamation declaring next week as National Business Women's Week in the City of Belleville.

The club had a busy and exciting agenda for its October meeting, with the Business Women's Week and Woman of the Year Committees in charge of the evening's program.

Connie Stoelton, committee chairman, presented the 1982-83 Woman of the Year Award to Bonnie Pavlat, an elementary teacher in the Van Buren Public Schools and active in the education program of Faith United Methodist Church in Denton.

Margaret Saunder, Business Women's Week chairman, presented Cora Horton, a 53-year BPW member, with a certificate of recognition. Ms. Horton then teamed up with Gloria Herbert on a presentation of their recent trip to Africa. Their mission was to help build the Sierra Leone Theological School Library, which serves all of West Africa.

In attendance at the meeting were members of the Ypsilanti, Dearborn and Battle Creek BPW Clubs, as well as district director Virginia Bucholtz, who made a brief statement to those in attendance.

The Belleville BPW Club has been one of the first area clubs to equalize its membership with last year and, according to club officers, has exceeded it.

The club also voted to sponsor a fashion show as its spring project.

For further information on the club call 697-7292.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Fabin Jr. and children from Romulus and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mericle of Belleville were among the members of the Kaiser-Frazer Owners Club, International, and of the Seaway Region from Michigan-Ohio-Canada, who attended the last Seaway Round-up of 1982, held at the Circle P. Ranch at Findlay, Ohio, on Sunday, Oct. 3.

Members were present from Florida, Arizona, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Ohio and Ontario. Following the usual 1 p.m. Buffet Potluck, the business meeting was held, and various trophies were presented. On Saturday evening, Oct. 2, the Mericles entertained at their traditional "Seaway Manager's Nite Open House" in the Franklin Room at Findlay Holiday Inn, with the showing of Kaiser-Frazer film.

Highlight of the occasion for the Mericles was the surprise arrival of their daughter, Loralie, from Austin, Texas, to help her mother, Blanche, celebrate her birthday.

Mayor and Mrs. Justin Emerson were last weekend guests of friends, Dr. and Mrs. Jerome Falton at Hillsdale. While there they enjoyed attending the annual Hillsdale Fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Seaman spent last Tuesday with their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Gregory Gorga, and their four daughters, at Bloomfield Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stevens were guests last week of cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Coate of Columbus, Ohio. Enroute home they were overnight guests of Mrs. Steven's mother, Mrs. Chester Shoup of Morenci.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Amerman were callers last Wednesday at the Henry Deering home on West Huron River Drive.

Former Belleville residents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hopeman from Sun City, Ariz., were calling on relatives and friends in the area this past week.

Mrs. Blanche Dogan from Homer was a recent caller at the Russell Buck home on East Huron River Drive.

Roberta Welt attended a reception and dinner-dance for Jon P. Cook, State Master Counselor, held at Grand Rapids on Saturday, Oct. 2.

Aids to pain

• Blisters always seem to occur in the wrong place at the wrong time. The right way to handle these often painful nuisances is to take a sterilized needle and gently prick the blister's edge once. Press out the clear fluid. Then apply a dressing soaked in salt water or Epsom salts for five minutes. Pat dry and paint the blister with gentian violet solution from the drugstore. It will dry the blister and help prevent infections. Paint the blister three or more times a day, and the upper layer of it will form a protective cover for the tender skin underneath. The scab will peel off uneventfully in a week or so.

OES Chapter 72 observes its 92nd birthday

Members of Chapter 72, Order of the Eastern Star, gathered last Wednesday (Oct. 6) for the groups 92nd birthday celebration.

The party, held at the Masonic Temple, kicked off with a 6:30 p.m. dinner, served by the Rainbow Girls. The welcoming address was given by the Worthy Matron, Ruth McAtee, with Past Matron Frances Cothorn giving the response.

Past Matron Roberta Pond, president of the Past Matrons Association, gave the invocation.

Past Matron Katherine Spring cut the first piece of the special birthday cake, made by Nancy Carey.

The chapter was called to order at 8 p.m. by Worthy Patron George McAtee. Among the many introductions made were those of Sally Wallace, Past Grand Organist; grand committee and grand representative; Wayne County officers and 19 past matrons and seven past patrons.

Shrimp and Swiss cheese team up with Mornay sauce

Scampi is the Italian word for a salt-water crustacean similar to shrimp. It comes to the table in one of its most delectable ways when served in a Mornay Sauce with a delightful accompaniment, Lemon Rice.

But, you ask, "Isn't Mornay Sauce French?" It may be, but the Italians claim it, too, since their Catherine de Medici married Henry II of France. She took with her a team of Italian chefs who influenced French cuisine profoundly. Mornay Sauce was among the many innovations they introduced.

Rather than getting into ethnic debates about the subject, most gourmets will do better just enjoying his delightful entree. Mornay Sauce is basically a white sauce, but the gourmet version is richer and more flavorful because onions are cooked with the butter and flour. Both milk and whipping cream are added, as well as Swiss cheese and nutmeg for seasoning. A bit of Parmesan cheese dusted over the top gives it interesting texture and flavor in the same way as chefs, either French or Italian, finish their classic dishes.

A great accompaniment to the shrimp dish is a very flavorful rice. Butter, sliced celery and onions, minced parsley and lemon peel will bring their magic to this cereal. Serve with crusty rolls, fruit or green salad and a sherbet to complete the menu.

SCAMPI CAPRICCIO DI DIANA
(Shrimp in Mornay Sauce)
4 servings

MORNAY SAUCE:

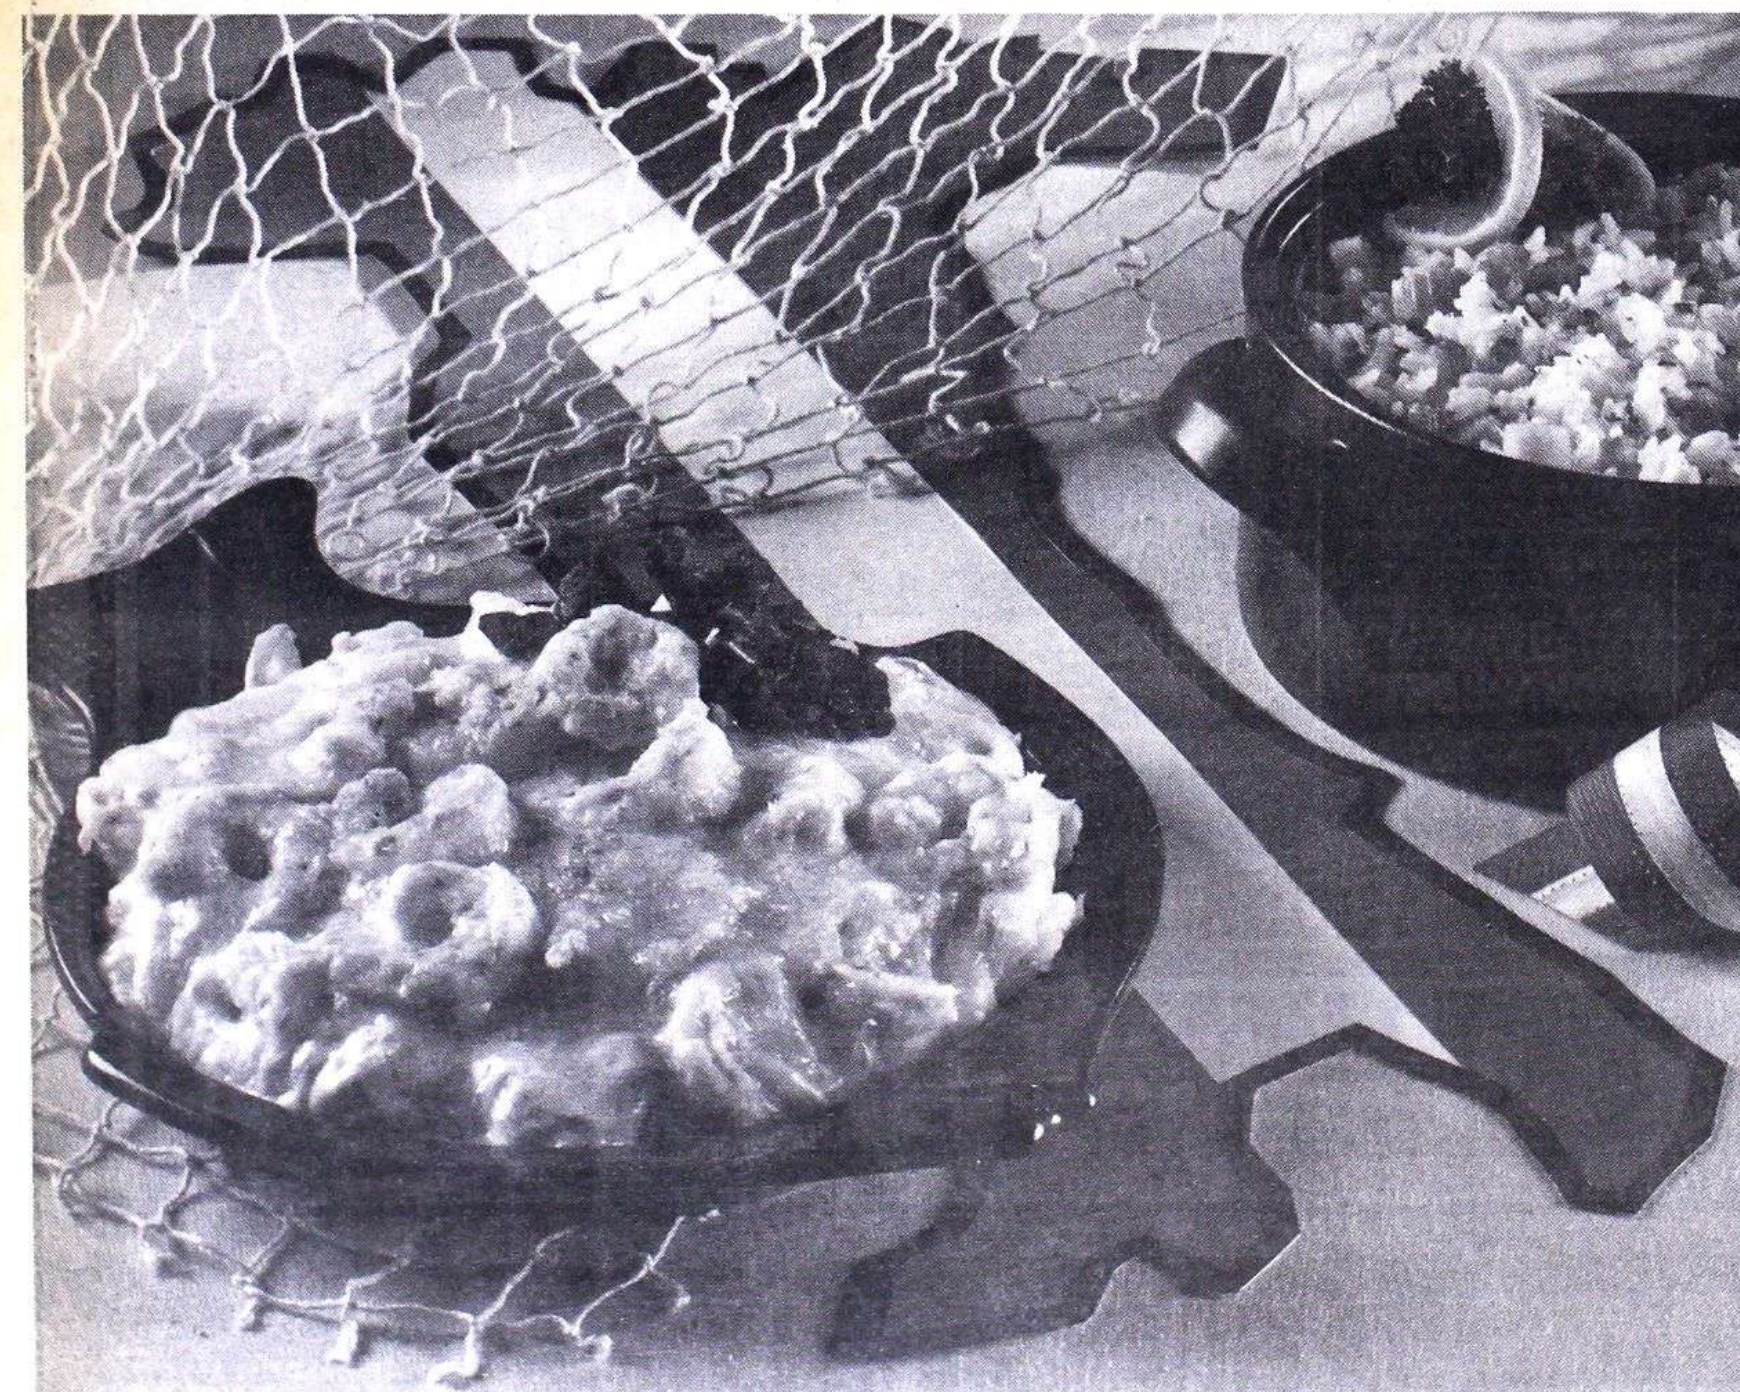

2½ tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
2 tablespoons chopped green onions with tops

1 cup (4 oz.) shredded Swiss cheese
1 pound medium to large shrimp, cooked and cleaned
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
Chopped parsley
Paprika

Preheat Oven to 350 degrees. Melt butter over low heat. Blend in flour and onion and cook, stirring constantly, until roux bubbles for 2 minutes. Remove from heat. Meanwhile, heat milk almost to boiling. Pour hot milk all at once into roux, stirring vigorously to blend well. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute. Reduce heat. Gradually beat in cream. Beat in salt, pepper, lemon juice and nutmeg. Remove from heat; stir in ½ cup of the Swiss cheese until melted. Place shrimp in buttered shallow 1-quart gratin pan or casserole. Pour Mornay Sauce over shrimp. Sprinkle with remaining Swiss and Parmesan cheeses. Dust with paprika. Bake 20 to 25 minutes or until hot and bubbly. Sprinkle with chopped parsley.

FOR INDIVIDUAL SHELLS: Divide shrimp between 4 seafood shells (or baking dishes). Divide Mornay Sauce equally among the shells, covering the shrimp. Sprinkle with remaining Swiss and Parmesan cheeses. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake 15 to 20 minutes or until hot and bubbly. Sprinkle with parsley.

Friends sell books

If it's books you want, then it's books you'll get at the semi-annual used book sale, being staged Monday Oct. 18, through Wednesday, Oct. 21, at the Romulus Public Library, 11121 Wayne Road, Romulus.

The sale is coordinated by the Friends of the Romulus Public Library and will feature a wide variety of used paperback and hard-covered books for sale, ranging in price from 10 cents to $1. A majority of the books will be priced at 25 cents.

Also featured will be 8,000 paperback books donated to the library by Vina Boatright of Romulus, a former used book store owner.

Sale hours will be 12 noon to 8 p.m. Monday and Wednesday and 12 noon to 6 p.m. Tuesday.

The sale is held twice yearly by the organization to help dispose of books donated to the library. Funds raised are used to purchase items for the library, such as storybook records a complete puppet collection and plants.

The group also is in the process of making more puppets in order to stage a puppet play version of the "Wizard of Oz."

Membership is open to any Romulus resident. The group meets on the first Tuesday of the month at 12:30 p.m. at the library.

Bolton-Sedlock exchange nuptial vows

The First Baptist Church of Ypsilanti provided the setting for the late summer marriage of Karen Colleen Bolton of Ypsilanti and Stephen James Sedlock of Streator, Illinois.

The couple, the daughter of Nancy Bolton of Ypsilanti and U.T. Bolton of Taylor and the son of Mrs. Eileen Sedlock of Streator, Ill., exchanged their vows before 180 guests in the double-ring ceremony, officiated by The Rev. Robert Johnson of Detroit.

Bouquets of roses and pink and white carnations decorated the church for the service, with pew bows and bows and greens on candelabra complementing the arrangements. Music for the service was by soloist Mrs. James Bingham.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of ivory rose chantilly lace, made by herself and her mother. The gathered skirt was trimmed with a ruffle flounce with scalloped lace edging which also edged the chapel train. The fitted bodice was trimmed with a ruffles on the front and back, and pearls trimmed the standup collar and lace edging. Leg O'Mutton sleeves and ivory satin cummerbund completed the outfit. She wore a lace tiara headpiece, with the veil trimmed in scalloped lace.

The bride, who carried a bouquet of roses and pink and ivory carnations with baby's breath and greens, asked Mrs. Thomas Bingham her twin sister, of Mansfield, Ohio, to serve as her matron of honor. She wore a rose polyester dress with a jacket of matching sheer polyester and carried a bouquet of silk roses, angel lace and azaleas, made by the bride's mother.

Mrs. James Bingham, sister of the bride, of Maple Heights, Ohio, served as bridesmaid. She wore the same attire as the matron of honor and silk flowers in her hair.

Ringbearer was Daniel Johnson of Detroit, while the flowergirls were Elizabeth Bingham and Jennifer Mukul'ina. Their dresses were of ivory broadcloth with a gathered skirt, full flounce and full puffed sleeves. They wore rose-colored ribbons in their hair to complete their outfits, also made by Mrs. Bolton.

The groom asked his brother-in-law, Gary Miller, of Peoria, Illinois, to serve as best man, while groomsmen was the Rev. Dennis Pratt of Craig, Colorado. The ushers were Dr. Thomas Bingham of Mansfield, Ohio, and James Bingham of Maple Heights, Ohio, brothers-in-law of the bride.

Mrs. Bolton chose a sleeveless gown of turquoise polyester with a long-sleeved jacket for her daughter's wedding, while Mrs. Sedlock wore a long-sleeved mauve crepe dress. Both mothers wore corsages of pink roses and carnations.

A reception for 150 guests was held at Shaw Hall following the wedding, while a rehearsal dinner was given by Mrs. Sedlock at the Flaming Pit in Ann Arbor.

The couple is now living in Streator, Illinois, following a four-day honeymoon to Niagara Falls and Toronto, Ontario.

The new Mrs. Sedlock is a 1974 graduate of Belleville High School and a 1979 graduate of Eastern Michigan University. She also attended the Word of Life Bible Institute in Scroon Lake, New York, and was employed by Campus Crusade For Christ in San Bernadino, California.

Her husband is a 1977 graduate of Illinois University and a 1981 graduate of Central Bible College in Springfield, Missouri. He is a licensed minister for the Assembly of God Churches.

10 DON'TS FOR A HAPPY MARRIAGE

1. DON'T be a Dictator! The medieval concept of a monarch in the home is of heathen origin.
2. DON'T be a Mote-Picker! If you constantly find fault with each other, marital harmony will be impossible.
3. DON'T be a Battle-Start! Arguing and shouting at your partner is an earmark of immaturity. Marriage is for adults only.
4. DON'T be a Self-Seeker! Don't claim everything in the home is yours. If you can't share with your partner, whom can you trust?
5. DON'T be a Talebearer! Never reveal your partner's faults to friends. If tempted to tell, remember it would be an immoral betrayal.
6. DON'T be a Lodger! Don't live with your in-laws. It's not fair to them or yourselves. If you can only afford one room, make that your home.
7. DON'T be an Iceberg! Don't stop courting after the honeymoon.
8. DON'T be an Autocrat! Don't always demand your own way. Be considerate of your partner's intelligence. Two opinions are better than one.
9. DON'T be an Abdicator! Never shirk your responsibility as a husband, wife, or parent. Abdicators are usually selfish cowards and runaways.
10. DON'T be a Manikin! Be manly or womanly. Don't be lacking backbone. Take care of your family and home interest.

Aren't U.S. budget priorities mixed-up

May I offer my comments to last week's "The Other Side of the Meridian", namely, "What Price Freedom?"

I'd like to reiterate managing editor's Tom Mooradian's last question: "But what price are we willing to pay for our freedom?"

The federal budget reflects our government's priorities and the amount for each activity reflects what is important to us.

Yet is this our budget as citizens? U.S. military spending in 1982 is $187.5 billion whereas 1982 spending on anti-hunger programs will total $21.2 billion.

We've made a trade-off, yet ironically if we would feed the hungry here and abroad, new economic growth and quality of life would dispel the need for the increase in military strength.

From 1982 budget:

• $35 million added to equip missile silos with long-lasting batteries to provide electrical power for days after nuclear attack. The Supplemental Feeding Program for Women, Infants and Children (WIC) was cut $40 million.

• $2 billion was added to the budget for building 100 more B-1 bombers which will be obsolete in 5 years — while in the meantime the Food Stamp Program was cut $2.4 billion.

• For 1983 budget in foreign aid contains an increase of $450 million in military-related aid for Pakistan while it cuts $7.5 million from the Peace Corps and $15.5 million from UN International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF). (Figures from the August issue, "Bread For the World".)

Please write letters to Congress and encourage representatives to speak our minds on needs.

"If you feed the hungry from your own plenty
And satisfy the needs of the wretched
Then your light will rise like dawn out of darkness
And your dusk be like noonday..."

The 'bowmen' are coming

Fire Chief says 'thanks'

Just saying a "thank you". I would like to take a minute to pay some recognition to some citizens of Van Buren Township.

While our township fire department was fighting a devastating building fire at Lake Villa Apartments on Oct. 9, a few citizens offered some help by the way of food and drinks.

I have seen times that our men were so tired they couldn't speak but mustered up enough strength to get up the hoses and fetch equipment.

It is times like these that we are blessed with wives, parents, families and friends. On this particular morning of Oct. 9, Mrs. Sue Massey,

Mrs. Janet Jaromin, Mrs. Rose Kolodziej went to McDonalds and asked for coffee and orange drink. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Traskos and Mrs. Linda Schlund loaded up with coffee and donuts from the Golden Boy Restaurant and Belleville Bakery. When they arrived at the scene, to say there was a smile or two would be an understatement. To the merchants who donated the food and drink, to the people who collected and served the food and drinks, I would just like to say "THANK-YOU."

Tribute to Carl Morris

Tom Mooradian
Managing Editor

On this cluttered, disorganized desk is a note that reads: "Mr. Morris called. He wants to meet with you to discuss your editorial about the PCHA refund."

In recent weeks the newspaper had expressed its opinion that the Peoples Community Hospital Authority should refund the mass reserves it has accumulated over the years.

Mr. Morris, who was the City of Romulus' representative to the PCHA board, wanted to straighten out this misguided youth and lead the debate from generalizations to specifics.

But the soft-spoken civic leader, who served the community of Romulus as a member of the Board of Education for more than 25 years and the county and state in various capacities, never kept his appointment.

Carl suffered a fatal heart-attack.

From across the country and state, they came to praise Mr. Morris yesterday. They told of his obstinate sense of justice, his untiring efforts to help his community and citizens. The praise came from congressmen, state senators and representatives, county and city officials and just "common people."

For they knew him for his work.

He was always beaming with enthusiasm about a project. And, when he learned that Romulus was to receive a postal facility of its own, he felt that the work of his colleagues was deservedly rewarded.

As Congressman William Ford pointed out, during a press conference called to make the announcement of the proposed Postal Building, Carl Morris helped spearhead the campaign for the local facility.

It would be an ever-lasting tribute to the man who gave so much of himself to his fellow citizens and community if the proposed building were named for Carl Morris.

Nuclear freeze 'likely to cause nuclear war'

Dear editor:

Soon Michigan will vote on a proposal calling for a freeze on nuclear arms. Though not binding, the vote is crucial because its fate will send a message to U.S. leaders and to friends, foes and neutrals overseas. So far we've been flooded with inaccurate propaganda for a freeze. But we have heard little about the weighty arguments against it — most importantly, that a freeze is more likely to cause nuclear war than prevent it.

I'm not a nuclear warfare expert. But I've studied the issue enough to become the next best thing — an expert on phony experts. I will describe some tell-tale signs people can use to judge which side of this issue has the phonies.

First, behavior: if the "expert" avoids the real issues; discusses only the obvious, the irrelevant and the unimportant; relies on emotional appeals; and is reluctant to let the other side talk — look out, you've got a phony.

Check credentials closely. Very few nuclear physicists, political scientists or medical doctors are nuclear war experts. Unless specializing in military issues, most wouldn't recognize a H-bomb if it appeared in their bathtubs.

Be alert for irrelevant arguments. Some arguments to support the freeze.

Some pacifists use the freeze as a subterfuge to entice people onto a path leading (they hope) to adoption of their philosophy — that it is better to die than to kill, and thus wrong to resist aggression. (Force a freeze activist to tell you how he would get the Russians to cooperate. He may astound you by admitting he really doesn't know and, moreover, doesn't care. Thus is unmasked the dishonest pacifist whose real motive is not to prevent war to save American lives, but rather to con Americans into adopting a policy of meek surrender.)

Forget budget arguments. If money were the issue, we would vote on a budget freeze and let the generals decide which weapons to buy. Since this proposal specifies freezing one type of weapon, the issue is strategy — not budget.

(Anyway, defense spending is a social welfare program, as surely as social security. Ask any Afghan if the Russian threat is a figment of someone's imagination. The Russians really do murder, rape, rob and oppress people if given a chance. Effective defense to prevent that is our most important welfare program. Defense spending is for people, not machines. There are Americans in those ships, planes and tanks. We owe them good equipment. Tightwadling on defense kills U.S. soldiers.)

Best way to identify phonies is to learn enough about nuclear arms to spot their outrageous errors. The most common involve grossly exaggerating the size and power of nuclear weapons and the nuclear arsenal. Examples:

MYTH: We have more nuclear arms than we need. FACT: We need a big arsenal. There are more targets in the U.S.S.R. than we have warheads for. Also, in real war, some missiles won't fire, some warheads won't explode, many will miss the target, some will be destroyed on the ground or in flight. (Russia has an anti-missile system, though we don't). So we need extra ones to compensate for failures and losses. Also, to insure survivability and penetration, we need extra weapons for our redundant Triad of bombers, ICBMs and missile subs.

Lastly, we must stockpile various kinds of short-range arms in various places to meet different emergencies.

MYTH: One H-bomb is more destructive than all bombs dropped in World War II. FACT: Can one H-bomb destroy both Berlin and Tokyo, plus scores of other major cities? The World War II bombs did, so they must have been more destructive than a whole lot of H-bombs. The anti-nuclear people only know how to compare raw yield (megatonnage), but that is a lousy indicator of destructiveness. The true measure, equivalent megatonnage, is a function of the cube root of raw yield. A 20-megaton bomb is not 1,000 times as destructive as a 20-kilotonner.

Actually it will destroy only 100 times the area and its destructive radius is only 10 times as great.

MYTH: Overkill (we have enough bombs to kill all mankind several times). FACT: Balderdash. That's not even what overkill means. Professionals use the term only to mean the ratio of weapons to a given target list. It never meant the ability to kill off mankind, except to uninformed amateurs. No serious expert thinks a nuclear war would exterminate mankind. In World War II we made enough bullets to kill all mankind 20 times. Yet our bullets killed very few people, because most either were never fired or missed. Hard as most laymen find it to grasp, the same applies to H-bombs: you have to hit people to kill them. (The Mount St. Helen explosion equalled 500 A-bombs, yet less than 100 died.) Remote areas, even in the U.S. and U.S.S.R., would be quite safe. Even in target cities, many would survive. Fallout and ozone depletion effects are much overblown. Fallout is dangerous, but real experts think it would kill only a small fraction of mankind. Doomsday talk about ozone depletion comes from a 1975 report discredited by recent research. Even freeze activists, while screaming "overkill," quote studies showing millions of survivors in the U.S. and U.S.S.R.

MYTH: Exaggerated bomb effects (kill distances, firestorms, ridiculing civil defense, etc.). FACT: Even the biggest bombs (which are rare) cause only trivial damage (sunburn on bare skin) at 40-45 miles. Serious damage range is much shorter. Dangerous range of the much more numerous small warheads is even less. Firestorms are unlikely because U.S. cities don't contain enough fuel per square foot. Civil defense is effective. Even ridiculed steps like "duck and cover" (jumping in a ditch, etc.) could save many lives as close as 1-2 miles from ground zero.

MYTH: Nuclear war in "unwinnable" and "unthinkable." FACT: A limited nuclear war would be quite "winnable," and assertions that nuclear war cannot be limited are arrogant, unprovable speculation. Though there is no guarantee nuclear war would be limited, it certainly could be. Arguing that nuclear war is and must remain "unthinkable" — often used (ironically) to denounce less destructive weapons, on grounds they make war "more thinkable" — is pure daydreaming. Soviet military literature shows plainly that they have no trouble thinking about nuclear war. They are sure a big nuclear war, while costly, would end in Soviet victory and a Communist world. When a Russian general published a book with one sentence hinting that nuclear war might be unwinnable, that line was censored out of all later editions. Since it only takes one side to start a war, it doesn't matter what we think. As long as the Russians consider nuclear war thinkable, it is.

If you think some of this seems immaterial to the freeze issue, you are right. All agree nuclear arms are terrible: why belabor the point? So why did freeze supporters raise these issues? Why do they obscure the real issue with irrelevancies? Why exaggerate? Isn't the truth frightening enough?

These questions undermine the movement's credibility, for there are only two possible answers: freeze supporters are either ignorant or dishonest. Either way, they aren't qualified to lead us on such a critical issue.

Most are just uninformed. But the leaders should know better. They deliberately use wild-eyed exaggerations to terrify us into supporting something we would never favor after careful reflection. Knowing their policy is intellectually bankrupt, they use emotionalism to sell it. Should we mortgage our families' safety to a policy based on emotional shouting of inaccurate statements about irrelevant issues?

So what is relevant? Only this: will a freeze make us safe? In fact, the sloppy Michigan proposal would make war both more likely and more destructive.

First, it would freeze the wrong things. Just freezing weapons numbers wouldn't be so bad. But it would also ban arms modernization. It is so sweeping that it might even bar replacement of existing equipment that wears out or is damaged.

It would ban the Trident submarine, cruise missile and Stealth bomber, whose superior survivability and accuracy would make war less likely and less damaging. (Survivability makes it less likely by making our deterrent more credible. Accuracy makes it less horrible by permitting use of smaller warheads.)

Moreover, in their infinite military ignorance, freeze drafters chose words that could even be taken to ban production of some conventional weapons. "Nuclear delivery systems" could mean any system capable of delivering nukes, even if not built for that. We might be barred from manufacturing cannons, fighter planes — even trucks, since trucks "deliver" atomic demolition munitions (used to block roads, tunnels, etc.).

But the freeze would not prohibit Russia from upgrading its already awesome anti-missile, anti-sub and anti-bomber defenses to make our deterrent totally obsolete. (We could also improve defenses, but a freeze would probably lull us into a false sense of security and make such spending politically impossible.)

The freeze idea is part of the larger fraud that disarmament means peace. Disarmament is not the road to peace. Rather, peace is necessary for real disarmament. Arms technology cannot be wished away. Even if arms were banned, people would start building them again at the first sign of trouble.

Anyway, weapons are a mental attitude more than a technology. Take away firearms and the guy with a hunting bow will rule the world. Melt all the swords into plowshares, and the Russians will beat you to death with a plowshare.

Maybe an ingenious disarmament treaty might reduce some risks. But it won't bring real peace. Anyway, devising it is a job for professional negotiators with enormous experience, expertise and discipline — not for uninformed amateurs.

Let's face it: few of us really understand the great issues of our age. We must rely on experts. Our duty is to learn enough to vote for the real experts.

Lastly, intentionally or not, the freeze movement creates an image of a panicky America, too terrified to defend itself. This undermines the faith of allies and neutrals and encourages foes' aggressiveness. International bullies, like schoolyard punks, always pick on the weak. If we grow weak, or seem unwilling to use our power, we will start looking like Poland to the Russians. A Soviet miscalculation of our courage could mean war. Thus, by its panicky grasping for peace, the freeze movement creates an image that could actually cause war.

The 1982 Anglo-Argentine war showed how misjudging a foe's strength and resolve causes war. Argentina watched England unilaterally disarm for years and decided she would be easy pickings. To Argentina's shock, the Brits still had the guts, improvisational skills and superb professional warriors to punish aggression. But England paid a high price for sending signals of weakness.

Let's not send Russia such a signal by thoughtlessly approving the naive, poorly conceived, badly written, amateurish Michigan nuclear freeze proposal.

It is the path not to heaven, but to hell.

Another comment on W-W recall

EDITOR — In regard to Managing Editor Tom Mooradian's column, (Sept. 22: Recall-Post Mortem) I too would like to congratulate Taxpayers' United Together (TUT) on their successful drive to recall Mary Arbour, Mildred Batterson, Donald Rusnock and Kenneth Marshall from the Wayne-Westland Board of Education, but his suggestion to recall Dave Moranty, Fred Marmber and Dwey Combs absolutely shocks me.

Throughout the entire recall campaign, opposition to the recall consistently warned of the dangers of running a school system or a fragment of a school board, and now that the four are gone, Mooradian advocates running it with NO school board at all. Let's be consistent.

Be realistic, if you really don't believe that the three remaining board members have ever accomplished anything, then maybe you should take into consideration that they have been overshadowed and out-weighted by the works of the four ousted members. Give them a chance.

In regard to the four ousted members, I have no sympathy for them. They got what they deserved. Arbour, Batterson, Rusnock and Marshall somehow seemed to forget that they were serving in a district where unemployment is running amuck, and they never hesitated to dig deeper into the taxpayers' pocket to raise additional revenues. Aren't Wayne-Westland school taxes high enough?

Now don't get me wrong, a quality educational system is extremely important, but people still have to eat and keep a roof over their heads. Considering the rate of tax we pay on these "roofs," I can honestly say firsthand that the taxpayers are not getting their money's worth for their educational system.

As a recent Wayne-Westland graduate, I have seen old text books and other school equipment overdue for replacement, school supplies handed out sparingly, if at all, good young teachers dismissed in favor of older, less qualified/effective teachers, and popular courses dropped due to lack of funds.

It sort of makes me wonder where all of the money goes — maybe the four ousted members and Mr. Tim Dyer know...

I wish Warmber, Moranty and Combs all the luck in the world as they must now try to pick up the pieces and try to turn this whole mess around. They have their work cut out for them, but if anybody can handle it, they can. These are three very good men who will remember whom they represent and what their needs are. That is more than we can say about the four board members that were voted out of office on the fourteenth.

As for the silent majority, they didn't blow this election. WE finally spoke up!

Due to Associated Newspaper's one-sided coverage of this entire recall campaign, I don't expect to see this letter in print, but I just thought you might like to know why my family may soon drop it's Eagle subscription.

It is no secret the local paper never liked the idea of a recall, but you should have reported both sides anyway. Don't be such sore losers, and confine your opinions to the Editorial Page, where they belong.

(EDITOR'S NOTE — We do believe our staff reported both sides of the issue. And we also believe you have a right to your opinion.

More KIDS' controversy

EDITOR — In response to the Guest Editorial and its conglomerate of misstatements of facts and falsifications written over signature of the Mayor of Inkster, it is clear that the Mayor has a ghost writer. Anyone that knows the Mayor, would readily state that he did not write, nor dictate that editorial.

It is good that someone responded to my stated facts in an earlier editorial, because it provides the citizens an opportunity to fairly evaluate the ability of this administration and its ineptness and insensitivity to people needs. To further advise the citizenry, I propose that the Mayor and I hold public discussion on the many problems, in Inkster, that he has not remedied, or sought remedy therefore.

Now to again set the record straight and refute the aforementioned misstatements.

RESPONSE NO. 1. Reads that a more reasonable planning period was needed among the various agencies in order to better assess the assistance needed. Mayor and Council were advised that the Director of Inkster's Parks and Recreation had worked with all agencies involved in ironing out all necessary details.

During my presentation at the August 2 council meeting I advised them that Mr. Lewis Jackson had all of the logistic info needed and that he should be contacted because I didn't have it on hand. There was never a request, nor commitment for me to present any further clarification, during that meeting.

RESPONSE NO. 2. Speaks to my reference of the City Manager's comments about volunteerism—The response is irrelevant, and does not realistically relate to my comments on volunteerism, therefore I need not react to it.

RESPONSE NO. 3. relates to an allegation that KIDS lost out on a $100,000 grant because of City delay-The 'lost out' referred to relates only to submission of the proposal in a timely manner. This is attributed to the City and all evidence supports that statement.

Again, I might advise the Mayor that the City Manager has confused our attempt to be funded under the Partnership Grant, with another one of our several attempts to assist the City. Your reference in this response applies to another source of funding provided by Congressman William D. Ford to KIDS.

The statement by the Mayor that the proposal was not ready for signature when he arrived in Brownstown, because more typing had to be done on the grant application is an absolute untruth. The Mayor arrived at the Brownstown office shortly after noon. I had already left for Inkster with the typed application to secure his signature, and place it on the next plane to Washington, D.C. The statement that the Mayor returned to his office and signed the grant application at around 12:30 PM, is also an untruth. He signed it at 12:45 PM in the Inkster High School cafeteria.

Finally, a closing paragraph in the editorial reads "The fact that the grant was not funded is not attributable to the availability of a signature or to an airline schedule, but more likely to the availability for funding in the categories for which they applied."

I state, unrelentingly, this is an outright falsification. There is a copy of HUD letter, provided by Congressman Ford, addressed to the City of Inkster, clearly stating that the proposal arrived 1 hour and 31 minutes too late to be considered for approval and funding.

I hope this letter will, again, place this whole situation in proper perspective. I have documentation and witnesses to everything I've said.

When hoods ransack homes

EDITOR — To the thoughtless hoodlums who, with nothing better to do, broke in and ransacked my neighbors home - I only hope that someday when you have a home of your own, that someone will be as considerate and thoughtful of your property.

The coins, camera, projector, etc., that you sell can be replaced by them.

What about a grandmother's necklace, a mother's engagement ring made into a pinky ring, a necklace given by her husband on their wedding day, class rings, etc., etc. These things all have sentimental value and cannot be replaced.

These items of jewelry have no value to you except for the money you may get from selling them.

I sincerely hope that you all choke on the cigarettes, booze and dope you buy at their expense.

It seems you have forgotten "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you".

When people work together

EDITOR — I would like to use this opportunity to thank the many individuals who displayed their concern for our community's young people through their participation in the Elwell Apple Festival.

Thanks to Doctors Ali, Graf, Henry MacDermid, and Troxell for their generosity of apple donations; also the gifts of free dinners for our king and queen, donated by the big apple and at Mike's Red Apple; also, a word of appreciation to Mark Rairick for his time in judging the apple pie baking contest.

The success of the festival was largely the result of the input of many of Elwell's teachers: Bob Carlson, who brought his ponies; Ray Gross who did caricature drawings; Bree Stosick, who did face paintings, Julie and Bruce Hacala, who operated the pop corn machine, Alice Payne, who sold cider and donuts, and Sue Farber, whose room helpers, Mrs. Rhodes and Mrs. Hogg, ran the bobbing for apples.

A special thanks to the parents of my class, and to all the parents from Elwell who helped with the evening.

Residents don't want 'nite club'

EDITOR — It took a lot of effort, but I feel our residential area on Merriman Road, south of Cherry Hill scored a tremendous victory by defeating the "nite club".

Hawthorne Valley Citizens Committee lead by chairman Harry Conner, joined forces in their objections to a "Nite Club" that was proposed for the existing "Golf-O-Thon Building on 450 S. Merriman Road—South of Cherry Hill.

This proposed "Nite Club" would have fronted Grace Maravian Church and a long standing, residential-area, of homes.

Also coming to the rescue of these Merriman Road residents was Glenn Anderson, many angry neighbors, concerned citizens, and our senior citizens.

Reverend Toutman, his wife and members of their congregation of the Grace Moravian Church, joined in the objections against Nite Club proposed for the existing Golf-O-Thon Bldg. I presented City Council with petitions of 1,200 names and addresses of angry residents and concerned citizens who objected to this Nite Club or Bars in this residential area.

I am happy to see that our council members kept their oath to insure the health, safety and welfare of our citizens in this community.

To the best of my knowledge, no bar fronts a residential area in Westland.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank Harry Conner and his Hawthorne Valley Citizen Committee, Glenn Anderson my neighbors, who worked very hard, senior citizens and concerned citizens, also Grace Moravian Church Congregation.

All of us thanks the City Council member's, and planning Commissions members who supported us. (We will remember at election day)

It is "people power" joining together and organization groups that helps us have a better community.

Hall party a 'success'

EDITOR — The parents and staff of the Child & Family Neighborhood Program would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people who either purchased a ticket, or donated one, to the recent hall party we sponsored on Sept. 19, 1982 at the Camoran Hall.

It was a really fantastic evening, and everyone is looking forward to the next one.

Special thanks go to Ron Dishnow and his staff at the Camoran, and to Wally Jackson and Sundown for the great music. Special thanks also to Jim Craig for his volunteer help, and also to a few parents who worked especially hard to make the evening a success: Alice Trader, Teresa Porter, and Debbie Benrowski.

A big thank you for Billy Elvis and Jess Spangler for welcome and unexpected guest appearances.

To all the infants and preschoolers in our program, thanks for loaning so much of your parents' time and putting up with baby sitters.

Many thanks to all the parents and their friends, and to my own "kids" for giving us an opportunity to be together to have such a good time.

Looking forward to next year... (really, I am!)

A 'bite' leaves a mark

BOISE, IDAHO... "Mom, I think I am going to die..." the young voice wailed over the long distance wires.

"What do you mean you think you are going to die?" I shrieked.

"Well, something must have bitten me. I have all these funny little bites all over my body, and I scratched one open, and I think it got infected and I think I'm dying."

"What bit you?"

"I don't know," she wailed.

"Well, tell me about it." I was trying to be calm, but when one is 3,000 miles away from one's youngest and she thinks she's dying it is very hard to be calm.

"Well, last night this kid came over to the dorm..."

"Did HE bite you?"

"No, mom, of course not, but I went out with him and we went to a party and this kid came up to me and said he had been gone for several years from the United States, and..."

"Did HE bite you?"

"No, mom. But I was standing there talking to him because he had been in Belgium right in the same places I had been, and then this other guy came over and he said he loved going camping in the mountains, especially after I told him you were in Idaho where there are mountains..."

"Did HE bite you?"

"No, mom. I'm trying to tell you. While I was talking to him this other kid came up and said he used to know my brother and he wondered if I was a nutty as my brother..."

"Did HE bite you?"

"No, mom. Why ever would you think he would bite me, just because he thinks my brother was nutty?"

"Go on," I answered.

"Well, then we came home and my roommate's father had come over..."

"Oh, HE bit you!"

"Mom...will you listen?"

"I'm trying to..."

"Well he talked to us for awhile and then he left and I went to bed."

"When did you get bitten?"

"I don't know. But you see there was this tiny little bug..."

"I didn't see a tiny little bug. But it must have been a tiny little bug because I didn't see it."

Being a mother can be trying at times, and this was one of those times.

"Then how do you know a tiny little bug bit you?"

"Well, SOMETHING bit me, and no one else was in my bed but me and the tiny little bug."

"But you didn't see the tiny little bug?"

"No, but I have all these tiny little bites all over my body and I know I am going to die!" Holding the telephone I could hear the anguish in my child's voice.

"Listen, honey," I said keeping my voice calm and soothing. "Go in and take a shower and see if anyone has any calomine lotion and pour it over your bites. You aren't going to die. There are no bugs in Michigan that can kill you by biting..."

"You sure, Mom?"

"I'm sure."

"Gee, thanks mom. I feel so much better. Actually, I'm glad that bug bit me because I wanted to talk to you. I charged this call to your credit card. Okay?" "Bye, Mom..."

ing the most "magnificent" as the ultimate target. The senselessness of it is what is so terrifying.

Nor does it make sense to explain the hunt away by calling it a "mercy-killing". (Those poor deer, etc., would die of starvation if so many thousands weren't killed off each year.) It is a useless argument when the state continues to encourage feed-lots and burn-offs to increase the numbers of the game population. And when it allows the killing off of natural predators to give the hunters better odds.

There is no explanation, other than the need for essential food, that makes any sense. None at all.

And if anybody wants to think of me as a "bleeding-heart Bambi lover", have at it. You wouldn't be the first one. Be forewarned, though, that I consider it the highest of compliments. And it would have made Grama proud.

What is 'hunting'?

When I was out driving the other day, I hit a squirrel. Or, rather, a squirrel hit me. He came out of nowhere and darted into the road. I slammed on my brakes and held my breath, but the loud "thunk" told me he didn't make it. I looked through the rear-view mirror and saw him tumbling on the road. I watched in horror as he worked his way in panic and in pain to the other side of the road and then into the woods.

I should have gone back for him. I should have wrapped him in something and taken him to the humane society, a few blocks away. They might have been able to help him — or at least put him out of his misery. But I didn't. I drove on.

I've been feeling guilty about it ever since. And if you're thinking that I'm overreacting to such a common, everyday occurrence, it is either because you are not a squirrel or because you never knew my grandmother.

My grandmother was a warm and gentle lover of all living things. (Except for houseflies, mosquitoes and rats. They were germ-carriers and thus were necessarily expendable.) Every other form of life was of a higher order and had a place and purpose here on Earth.

Creepy-crawlies like spiders and beetles, if they chanced to enter her spotless, dustless domain, were enticed onto a piece of newspaper and deposited gently onto the grass beyond the porch steps. In warm weather, of course. In winter, they were allowed to stay. They needed a warm place to live, too, she reasoned.

I suppose, to some, Grama was a hypocrite. She ate meat and fish and fowl. But when I teased her about it once, she told me, in her simple, broken English, that God put food animals on Earth on purpose, so that we could live. That's why it was all right to eat them. But to kill anything just to make life easier was a sin. And the biggest sin of all was to kill something for the fun of it.

She never understood sport hunters. She did tolerate them, because that was her way. And so I tolerate them because Grama expected me to. But I cannot understand.

I have never heard a reasonable explanation for their activities. If they were hunting for essential food, no other explanation would be necessary.

If they are hunting for sport, however, they have lost all concept of what sport actually is. The essence of "sport" is that two or more evenly-matched opponents agree (a key word, here) to engage in some sort of physical endeavor or skill to determine who is the better, and, ultimately, the winner. "Evenly-matched" is another key phrase — the animal being hunted can never be a match for a hunter carrying a projectile-weapon.

The range of the weapon negates the odds. It ceases being a "sport" when projectiles enter the picture. There is one other factor that disqualifies hunting from being a "sport". In an actual sporting event, the loser rarely dies. If he or she does, it is the result of a tragic accident, and never an intentional conclusion.

And if, as some more honest hunters admit, they hunt for the thrill of downing a "magnificent, wild animal", I have to be honest enough to admit that they are the ones who terrify me the most.

There is no sense to killing anything for fun, let alone in select-

Romulus student Merit Scholarship semi-finalist

A Romulus High School senior has made it into the semi-final round of the 1983 National Merit Scholarship program.

E.L. Sheffield, Romulus High principal, announced that Cheryl Paton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Paton, is one of 15,000 semi-finalists in the competition for approximately 5,000 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in the Spring of 1983.

The young men and women represent the top half of one percent of each state's high school senior class.

Over one million students attending some 18,000 U.S. Secondary schools entered the competition by taking the PSAT/NMSQT in 1981 when most of them were juniors. Those designated as semi-finalist are being honored as the highest scorers in their respective states; in addition they are being identified to colleges and universities in the hopes of increasing educational opportunities for their academically able young students.

Semi-finalists have completed the first step in the Merit Scholarship

Belleville musician toots horn for 'M'

The 271-member University of Michigan Marching Band is a standard and eagerly awaited feature of the Wolverine home football games.

And in that enthusiastic crowd of musicians is none other than Belleville's Bill Gage, who is one of 48 trumpet players.

Conducted by Eric Becher, a Marching Band alumnus, the ensemble also will perform during half-time at Ohio State University on Nov. 20. The band appeared at one other away game this season — at the University of Notre Dame on Sept. 18.

Noted for its lively goose-step marching and creative formations, the band's musical repertoire ranges from traditional college songs to popular, classical and big band pieces.

The band's performance-level composition is: 24 flags, 30 trombones, 12 euphoniums, 12 tenor sax, 48 trumpets, 12 alto horns, 17 percussion instruments, 16 alto sax, 8 piccolos, 24 clarinets, two twirlers, and Drum Major Steve Roberts.

The band staff includes graduate assistants Guy Bordo and Dan Meyers, assistant instructor Jeff Wilkins, percussion assistant Mark Spede, and flag instructor Marjorie Hurbis. The Marching Band's music is arranged by John Stout.

Area nursery schools to be surveyed

A sample of households in this area will be included in an annual survey on education to be taken the week of October 18-23, 1982, by the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce.

Robert G. McWilliam, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Detroit, states that interviewers will visit homes to obtain information about current school enrollment at all levels, from nursery school through college.

This information helps measure current trends in education and helps determine the need for additional or expanded educational facilities. The questions on education will supplement those asked regularly in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor.

Results of the monthly employment survey provide current data on conditions in the labor force, prime indicators of the economic health of the country.

For example, in August, the survey indicated that of the 110.6 million men and women in the civilian labor force, 99.8 million were employed. The nation's unemployment rate was 9.8 percent, the same as in July but higher than the rate of 9.5 percent in May and June.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals.

steam that can be sold to nearby industry.

Detroit, by burning its rubbish, hopes to produce electrical power and steam heating for downtown and New Center areas. Wyandotte and the DCC (Downriver Community Conference) have plans on the drawing board to produce steam heat from its waste. Canton Recycling Inc., Central Wayne County Sanitation Authority and Gorse Pointe are already recycling metal for reprocessing and all landfill developers are pursuing plans to extract methane gas for use as a fuel. Riverview has a proposal, now, to remove methane from its mountain of trash to heat local offices.

"Resource recovery," said Roach, "comes in many packages... from waste reduction, source separation, volume reduction, composting, energy recovery, modular combustion, refuse-derived fuel, pyrolysis (chemical conversion to useable products), and biological conversion to landfill gas recovery.

"In every case," Roach explained, "the ultimate goal is to reduce the high cost of waste disposal and eliminate the need for additional landfill acreage, by converting such materials into useful by-products."

Movers and shakers

"Movers & Shakers", a family nature walk, will be held at the Nature Center of Oakwoods Metropark near Flat Rock on Sunday, October 24 at 2 p.m.

How animals and plants prepare for the icy season of winter is the topic of this nature walk. Participants will examine woodchuck dens, tree cavities, fields and woodlots for some insight into the mysteries of migration and hibernation — plus some other clues that indicate that nature is "getting ready" for winter.

This program is "free", and advance registration is required.

For information/registration — contact the Nature Center at Oakwoods Metropark — Phone 697-9181 (c/o Belleville)

A vehicle entry permit is required.

'West Side Story' at Wayne Memorial

Tragic tale of two lovers

The Spotlight Players will continue their presentation of "West Side Story" at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday at the Wayne Memorial High School auditorium.

In the play Arthur Laurents and Leonard Bernstein present the tragic fate of two lovers, Tony and Maria, who are the victims of the prejudice and hatred their families and friends have for one another. This 1957 classic is considered a modern version of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet."

Tickets for the Wayne-Westland Community Theatre effort are priced at $5 for adults and $3.50 for seniors and students and may be obtained at the door or by calling 595-6117.

Following is a brief look at some of the cast and production members:

Gail Susan Mack (director) — A Canton resident, she has directed more than 20 productions during the past 10 years, in addition to performing in numerous plays. Her theatrical experience also encompasses set, costume and lighting design, make-up and publicity.

Mary Jo Cobello (choreographer) — This 20-year-old student at Eastern Michigan University has been dancing since the age of five and served as president of the John Glenn High Dance Company in 1980. A Westland resident, she performed in two lead roles in "California Suite" and was the choreographer for "Godspell."

Mary Cobello (producer) — Served as co-producer for the Spotlight Players' production of "Cabaret." She is working on a master's degree in educational psychology at Eastern Michigan University.

Jeffrey James (assistant director) — The 21-year-old resident of Wayne has been involved in Spotlight Players' productions for five years in a variety of performing and stage crew capacities.

Liz Potter (music director) — A vocal music teacher in the Wayne-Westland School District, her past credits include work on "Godspell," "Lil' Abner" and "Oliver."

Rich Alder (instrumentals) — Has served as orchestra leader or musician in some 40 productions. The Westland resident is a music and English instructor in the Dexter school system.

Mark Renfrow (Bernardo) — This 19-year-old Wayne resident has participated in nearly every Wayne-Westland Community Theatre endeavor since 1980 either performing or serving as a make-up artist.

Jim Baker (Riff) — "West Side Story has always been one of my favorite musicals," says the 17-year-old Westland resident. He portrays Riff, leader of the Jets.

Karen Wilcox — (Maria) — This Canton resident studied speech and drama at Eastern Michigan University and has been singing for more than one year under the direction of Glenn Carlos.

Other lead roles will be performed by John Eastman as Tony and Andrea Swanson, 16, of Westland as Anita.

Street gang confrontations are a way of life in "West Side Story," the tragic tale of two lovers which will be performed Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. by the Spotlight Players. Rehearsing their

Chicago Road House offers family dining

By DENNIS NIEMIEC
Feature Editor

Yes, Virginia, a family can dine for a reasonable price at the Chicago Road House in Dearborn.

Convincing the public that this classy establishment does cater to a family budget has been at times a frustrating experience for owner Jack Valian. Simply put, many people are intimidated by the elegant furnishings and the reputation of this restaurant, which is located at 21400 Michigan Ave. (west of Southfield).

"It seems like everyday we see someone come in the front door, take one look around and leave," lamented Valian. "They just don't believe they can afford to eat here or maybe they don't feel they're dressed right. And that's just not the case."

Not the case at all. For the Chicago Road House has a dining area and a menu to suit nearly every taste.

The Loop Room is a perfect setting for that special meal or an important business gathering, complete with a decor from the Art Nouveau period (1890-1920). Various artifacts, etch glass pieces and a white marble statue and base from Florence, Italy add to the dining experience.

Overlooking the Rouge River, the Road House's new informal room — Windows on the Rouge — places an emphasis on casual attire, moderate prices and the look of the 1980's. This dining area encompasses stylish tables and booths, an overhanging outdoor deck with lights for the evening, and a decor that leads itself to relaxation.

Dinners served in Windows on the Rouge and the adjoining Gold Coast Cafe range from $5.95 to $9.95 and include such entrees as shish kabob, tenderloin tips, rainbow trout, frog legs, jumbo shrimp and Alaska king crab legs and prime rib. Salad, baked potato, fries or rice pilaf accompany the dinner specialties.

Sandwiches (French dip, club, stacked German ham, to name a few), omelettes (four egg selections for $4.50) and soups are plentiful. Salads include spinach, Greek, shrimp, fruit and chef's varieties.

Nachos are a Chicago Road House favorite ($4.65) and come in several concoctions — pizza, Mexi, BLT, Loop (ham, cheese, onions, green peppers, tomato, lettuce), Greek, seafood and Vege. Potato skins ($3.25) also come with a variety of toppings.

A complete wine list, dessert drinks and flaming coffees provide a nice touch to the dining experience as do the extensive list of desserts, ranging from cheese cake ($1.45) and walnut torte ($1.45) to apple strudel ($2.25) and such flaming specialties prepared tableside as cherries jubilee and peaches and cream. Scoops of Haagen Dazs ice cream provide a happy ending to any meal.

For the youngsters there's a special menu featuring hamburger, wing dings or fried shrimp.

Birthdays are special occasions at the Chicago Road House, which offers persons a complimentary dinner on their birthday or on Monday or Tuesday in the week of their birthday when a second dinner of equal or greater value is purchased. A free photograph of the birthday celebration is presented to the guest of honor. Since its opening in December of 1969, more than 70,000 birthdays have been celebrated here.

Adding that extra touch is a way of life for Valian, who has invested hundreds of thousands of dollars into his restaurant, making it a showplace that even draws customers from out of state. In addition to 14,000 square feet of dining and bar space, the Chicago Road House specializes in the types of food that form the basis of a quality restaurant.

"Our food costs are very high," Valian admitted. "Everything here is fresh... it's like comparing a synthetic diamond with a real diamond. Everything we serve is the real McCoy and yet you'll find our prices are very competitive."

Open from 11 a.m. until 2 a.m. daily, the Chicago Road House offers valet or self parking and has banquet facilities available (call 565-5710).

The Chicago Road House in Dearborn provides a gracious atmosphere for dining with sunlight filled windows facing the patio, hanging plants and stained glass lighting fixtures.

'Nuclear freeze' speakers available

Groups interested in information about the nuclear freeze proposal on the Michigan ballot — and disappointed because only pro-freeze information seems readily available — now have someone to turn to.

Chapter 16 of the Michigan Department, Reserve Officers Association of the U.S., is offering speakers to explain the arguments against supporting the nuclear freeze.

Speakers with professional military experience will correct some common misconceptions about nuclear weapons, the nuclear arsenal and nuclear strategy; discuss the possible dangers of the Michigan proposal's board language; and point out the risks of sending "signals of fear" in a dangerous world.

Groups interested in letting their members hear both sides of the story before they vote may telephone Harry Noyes, Chapter 16 secretary, at 728-2863 in Westland to arrange for a speaker.

It's Glenn vs. Franklin for grid crown

2 undefeated local teams clash for possible playoff berth

With each team bringing an untarnished 5-0 record into the game, Westland John Glenn and Livonia Franklin will meet on Saturday at 2 p.m. to decide the Northwest Suburban Conference football championship. More than 5,000 fans are expected to witness the clash of the undefeated clubs who will battle it out on the Livonia-based high school's field.

Franklin will also have an euphoric Homecoming crowd on hand.

"We're playing for all of the chips in this one," said Franklin coach Armand Vigna. "We're both 5-0 and the league championship and a possible playoff berth are at stake."

Vigna sees the pending battle as one matching his defense and aerial attack against Glenn's 'over-all balance.'

"I feel maybe they are a little tougher defensively than we are," Vigna offered, "but, some may disagree. One thing for sure it's going to be one heck of a game."

Glenn Coach Chuck Gordon echoed Vigna's sentiments about the kind of game fans can expect on Saturday, but pointed out that Franklin hasn't given up a touchdown in their last 12 quarters, "so that's the kind of team we have to face. They're tough. Believe me."

Franklin's defense shut out Redford Union in the Patriots' fifth consecutive victory of the campaign, 20-0. The victory wasn't assured however, until midway in the second quarter when the Livonians struck for two touchdowns and moved to a 13-0 halftime advantage. They went on to score single tallies in the last two quarters.

John Chmielewski caught a 40-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Rich Popp midway in the second period and Rich Wood kicked the first of three extra points to put the Pats up 7-0 with 7:11 left.

Then, with 2:42 remaining in the half, Popp hit Chris Lewis with a short strike that capped a 4-play, 42-yard drive that made it 13-zip.

Lewis returned a Redford Union punt 30-yards into the end zone and Wood nailed a 32-yarder from back-up quarterback Robb Dradrick to account for the rest of Franklin's scoring.

Chmielewski made an exceptional one-handed over-the-head catch and both Lewis and Larry Patzch each came up with superb receptions in this lopsided victory. Popp connected on 8 of 14 passes for 210 yards and the two TD losses gave him 10 on the season.

Tom Lucas provided the Pats with 32 yards on eight attempts while the Jerry Cullin coached defense continued to be awesome. Franklin's defense has yielded six points and a mere 176 yards in five games thus far this season.

Belleville to host undefeated Edsel Ford for Homecoming

"We didn't look like a team on offense or on defense."

That's how Coach Michael Colletta summed up Belleville's 24-0 setback at the hands of winless Lincoln Park last Friday night. And he warned that the Tigers would have to regroup and reassess their advantage points in preparation for Dearborn Edsel Ford.

Unbeaten Edsel is the No. 1 ranked Class A team in the state this year. The T-Birds have been awesome on the ground as well as in the air.

"You don't become No. 1 in the state unless you can prove you deserve it, and this year's Edsel team has everything," Colletta said.

Unfortunately for the Tigers they had chosen the game for Homecoming.

Back to the Lincoln Park mismatch.

"They were more hungry for the victory than we were," Colletta said. "That's about all there was to it. We didn't execute the way we know how and our defense couldn't stop their running game."

It all added up to the Tigers' second loss in five starts.

Belleville aided and abetted their host who cashed in three Tiger turnovers—one an interception—and two fumbles for scoring opportunities. The only Belleville player to put on a show was Leonard Armstrong who rushed for a total of 63 yards on 15 occasions.

The Railsplitters broke a scoreless deadlock with less than two minutes to go before the intermission. The picked off a Jerome Roberson pass and turned it into a touchdown. Ahead 6-0 at the half, the hosts then recovered a Belleville fumble on the first play from scrimmage after the second half kickoff to widen the margin to 12-0.

Lincoln Park erupted for two fourth quarter touchdowns to seal the victory and snap a 4-game losing streak.

LP's senior runningback Dave Kral was the mainstay of the offense as he sprinted to TDs on runs of 28, 5 and 47.

Although the Tiger defense wasn't able to stop Kral or the Railsplitters' running game, no one can blame Tiger defender Rod Laframboise who accounted for 14 tackles, five of those solos.

Colletta is concerned about "getting his players back playing as a team."

"I am more concerned about getting my team playing as a team than about Edsel Ford and what Jack Bridges (Edsel's coach) is doing."

"If we can solve some of the problems we have had in the past two games, I'm confident that no one will blow this team off the field. But they got to play as a team and not as individuals," Colletta said.

Special victory for Glenn

Oct. 15, 1977.

Jimmy Carter was President, gas prices were $1.10 a gallon and climbing, the New York Yankees were in the midst of a comeback in the World Series and the Concorde was still four days away from its first landing in the United States.

October 15, 1977 was also very special for the players, fans and coaches of the Rockets of Westland John Glenn. For, on that date, they defeated the North Farmington Raiders, 17-8, under the direction of first year head coach Chuck Gordon. It would be 1819 days before the Rockets would have that opportunity again.

In 1978, the Raiders defeated the Rockets in the now famous 9-7 Homecoming loss on Friday the 13th; in 1979, the Raiders beat the Rockets 17-7, and in 1980, the two teams hooked up in a triple overtime duel only to see the Rockets lose a heart-breaker, 28-21. Last year, the Rockets were dealt their only loss, 14-6.

But all those frustrations came to an end last Friday night as the Rockets, using a defense that refused to break and some big plays on offense, blanked the Raiders, 12-0, before a standing room only crowd of over 6000 Homecoming spectators at Kionka Field.

Coach Gordon, who with the victory became Glenn's all-time winningest coach with 36 victories said, "It turned out the way we expected. They are the best team we have played to this point. They're extremely well-coached. We're pleased with the win."

The victory was only the sixth time that the Rockets have defeated the Raiders in 18 years but it was probably the most satisfying because it came at the end of a long dry spell.

North Farmington entered the contest with a very atypical 1-3 record, 1-1 in the Northwest Suburban League. Their defense has been the strength of the team thus far this season having only been blown out of one game, the previous week when they lost to Livonia Franklin, 20-0. The Raider offense has been, at best, lukewarm.

Led by quarterback Matt Shepard (5-9, 140, Sr.), and running backs Eric Collier (5-9, 150, Sr.) and Kenn Goss (6-0, 200, Jr.), the Raiders have moved the ball well between the two 20-yard lines. But for the most part, they have failed to cash in on their opportunities.

But it was the Rocket offense that got first crack at the Raider defense that Gordon described as "good, quick, and get to the ball in a hurry."

Fortunately for the Rockets, the Raiders didn't get to the ball quick enough on the first series. After winning the coin flip to begin the game, the Rockets took possession of the ball at their own 27-yard line.

Quarterback Jeff Hawley, who in 1977 was a 6th grader at Albert Schweitzer Elementary School, didn't even wait until everybody had sat down. He took the snap from center Dave Green, stepped back into the pocket and fired a pass downfield toward receiver Rob Bell standing on North's 45-yard line.

Bell caught the pass and raced the rest of the way to score Glenn's first touchdown of the evening. For Bell, it was his second TD of the year, and for Hawley his fifth TD pass of the year. Todd Jennings, returning from the injury list, missed

Go for it

Glenn head coach Chuck Gordon rushes Todd Mills back into the thick of the action Friday night and the Rocket skipper had to be pleased with his team's over-all performance. They blanked a traditionally tough North Farmington team 12-0.

Glover: 'We're going to win'

Romulus finds Woodhaven standing in Homecoming path

Romulus High gridders will try to hoot down a "jinx" Friday night when undefeated Woodhaven invades North Junior High field. Coach Norbert Glover's Eagles have never won on their home field since moving to the lighted gridiron two years ago.

"We're going to win this one," said a confident Coach Glover after his minions destroyed Clarenceville 32-0 last Friday. "We're peaking now and our kids want this one bad."

The 7 p.m. kickoff against Woodhaven will bring together a homecoming crowd that would help boost the Eagles' morale. Romulus will also put a 3-2 record up against Woodhaven's perfect 5-0 mark.

It took the Eagles 12 minutes to warm up against Clarenceville and they broke a scoreless deadlock midway in the second frame when quarterback Terry Roache hooked up with Rog Harris on a 47-yard touchdown pass. Matt Sullivan missed his first point-after.

The Eagles put the game out of reach in the second period when they erupted for three TDs. They took the opening kickoff and marched to the 47 where Matt Percy broke loose on a 47-yard touchdown run, breaking away from would-be Clarenceville defenders.

Midway in the third period, Darren Gradison gave the Eagles cushion when he superbly returned a punt 71-yards into the Clarenceville end zone and recorded the Eagles' third TD of the evening.

Romulus polished off their hosts with Percy's seven-yard TD run in the same quarter, set up by a 55-yard pass reception from Roache-to-Harris who was nailed at the Spartans' seven-yard line. Sullivan kicked the extra point.

The Eagles culminated their scoring with speedy Jerome Austin's 75-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter.

While Romulus ballcarriers were busy rushing for 391 yards and Roache picking up 91 yards on a 3-for-10 passing night, Romulus' defense forced three fumbles and recovered them thanks to Kevin Collins, Troy Harper and Gary Hardwick.

Austin, with that 75-yarder, finished with a total of 110-yards rushing.

Defensively, the Eagles recovered stalwart performances from Harper, a linebacker, and ends Eddy Eddings, who played his best game of the season, and Tim Holt, who was moved to end while Kevin Collins successfully switched to tackle. In the secondary, keep your eyes on Matt Schick, a sophomore who picked off one pass and batted away a couple of more.

Ten Pin Topics

Handicaps can't stop these bowlers

BY JIM WRUBLEWSKI

In the past we have mentioned that the game of bowling can provide enjoyment for people of all ages. Those from the relatively young (7 or 8 years old) to our respected senior citizens.

Area establishments not only conduct leagues for these various age groups, they also provide facilities for the physically handicapped so that they, too, can experience the thrill of that high score or impossible shot.

There are currently several leagues which accommodate both the blind bowler and bowlers with other physical handicaps. Anyone interested should contact one of the local bowling centers for additional information.

It is to a member of one of these leagues who we award our "Star of the Week" honors. Patti Orr, confined to a wheel chair and bowling at Westland Bowl in a league with a 2 game format, rolled games of 202 and 179 for a 381 series. This was Patti's first 200 game, and her 190 average after the opening session is something many of us dream about.

Other highlights from Westland Bowl include super shooting Terry Patterson with games of 278-235-256 for 769 followed closely by Randy Oncaz with 238-213-257 for 708.

In the junior circuit (15 to 18 year old bracket), Andy Quito had 244-224-211 for 679, Don BonWolfe, 223-214 for 622; Brian Pritchard, 209-202 for 609, Ron Adamowicz, 245; and Mike Voyles, 235.

The 9-to-11 year olds had David Capaldi with 144, John Butch with 140 for a 371 series, and not to be outdone, Cheri Pickard turned in a 140 for 404.

In the 8-year-old and under group, which has two game matches, Nyla Kluska rolled 115 for a 211 series, Aimee Tinkham had a 190 series with a 108 game. C.W. Wood rolled a 118 game and Mike Gehrke, a 210 series.

Crash landing

With the elusive football slipping out of his mitt, Westland John Glenn's Rob Bell (dark jersey) crashes to the gridiron in Friday's Northwest Suburban Conference confrontation with North Farmington. Bell and his teammates got up and handed the Raiders a 12-0 shut-out for their fifth consecutive victory of the campaign.

the attempted PAT and the Rockets led only 6-0.

And if one knows the history of this series between these two teams, a 6-0 lead is not safe. Unless, of course, your team happens to have a defense as tough as the Rockets' has been all year. Coach Gordon says of the defense that has now posted three straight shutouts, "Our defense has gotten better every week, but we'll need our best defensive game next week. Franklin is the best offensive team we have played all year."

The first big play came early when defensive end John Ericson (6-3, 194, Sr.) tipped an errant Shepard pass into the hands of defensive tackle Chris Stoumbos (5-10, 199, Sr.) for his first interception of the year. The Rocket offense took possession at the 50-yard line and proceeded to move down the field behind the blocking of the offensive line.

Jennings and Don Forchione took turns running the ball as the Raiders gave ground stubbornly.

Finally, with 2:59 left in the first quarter, Jennings took the hand-off from Hawley and following the blocks of the right side of his offensive line, tightroped the right side-line and sped 20 yards into the end zone for his fourth touchdown of the year. Glenn went for the two-point conversion to make up for the loss of the missed extra point but a run up the middle failed to dent the goal-line.

The Rockets had a very tenuous 12-0 lead but their defense took over and came up with big play after big play. The big plays "were crucial because they stopped North" from scoring. Gordon also said, "If you are to be a good defensive team, you have to make the big play."

Big Play #2, with #1 being Stoumbos' interception, was another interception in the third quarter. Ericson got one for himself that stopped a Raider drive at midfield.

Big Play #3 came early in the fourth quarter when the Raiders were on their own 20-yard line and getting more desperate as time ticked off the clock. Quarterback Shepard had been successful on a previous series dumping the ball off to his fullback, Goss, and he decided to do it again. However, he never got the chance.

Defensive end Jack Walker, a sixth grader at Wildwood Elementary School the last time a Rocket team beat North Farmington, tackled Shepard behind the line of scrimmage for an 11-yard loss and the Raiders saw shades of 1977 flash before their eyes.

Big Play #4 came late in the final stanza when linebacker Todd Mills (6-0, 163, Sr.) intercepted a last ditch Shepard pass, killing any Raider hopes of scoring.

Glenn sat on the ball the rest of the way and 1819 days of frustration came to an end.

But now thoughts must turn to next Saturday's game at Livonia

Rockets running 2nd in Northwest

John Glenn moved into second place in the northwest Suburban League with victory over Thurston. The Rockets are 2-1 in the league, trailing league leading Redford Union.

"We ran well against Thurston, taking six of the first eight places in the dual meet, winning the meet by a 16 to 45 score," said coach Ed Phillips.

Senior Captain Tom Gibson was the individual winner of the meet with a time of 16 minutes and 5 seconds. Senior Todd Stockwell was second (17:17), sophomore Frank Shelly was third (17:34), sophomore Jim Lakatos was fourth (17:57), junior Tony Augustinaitis was sixth (18:09), sophomore Tod Lilla was eighth (18:31), and sophomore Mark Scarborough was tenth (19:30).

"Thurston was hurt, since their number one runner has been out with an injury, they are like we are, in a rebuilding year," Phillips added. "But the victory was good for the team, especially for the younger runners who had an opportunity to place near the front in a dual meet."

"North Farmington is the most important league meet of the year for us. We are very evenly matched against North and the winner of the dual meet will be the challenger to Redford Union for the league title. If we beat North, we will have a small shot at the league title, if we lose to North, we have no chance of the title. Fortunately we will all be healthy for that meet and should give North a run for its money," Phillips concluded.

Tigers tie in soccer

It'll be recorded as a scoreless tie, but Van Buren Township's Tigers really won't forget their soccer duel with the Dearborn Heights Arsenals. The game helped them mature as players.

Although the Arsenals dominated the game, Tiger defenders Susan Taylor, Shelly Fry, and Amy Wagner, along with goalie Eli Buhro, were able to keep Dearborn Heights from scoring.

The second quarter looked more promising for the Tigers as Dana Hans, Heather Chudzinski, and Hope Gotts were able to keep the ball on the Arsenals' end of the field. However, despite persistent and intense effort, forwards Wendy Pollard, Nickie

Rocks roll

Salem title express speeds toward playoff berth

If there is such a thing as a football god, Salem Coach Tom Moshimer has just one request to make Friday night good for football. Make sure the temperature is crisp, the night is clear, and that there is no rain for 24 hours prior to the 7:30 p.m. kickoff. The Rocks and Livonia Bentley will take care of the rest.

The two newest members of the Western Lakes Association are set for a gridiron skirmish, just as they have been for the past 12 seasons. Both teams are unbeaten in league competition. Both teams have come from the Suburban Eight Conference and both would like nothing better than to earn a shot at the Western Lakes title. According to Moshimer, the team that wins Friday stands a good chance of winning that crown, or at least, the right to face the Lakes division first-place team for a league championship.

Salem earned its way into this week's showdown with a 35-7 victory over Farmington. And, while the Rocks looked impressive in their victory, they also had to recover from a first-quarter shock—a Farmington 7-0 lead.

On the other hand, Salem didn't allow Farmington much opportunity to do a whole lot more damage. Salem took Farmington's kick, ran one play, was assessed a 5-yard penalty and then Dave Bunch took Pete Steyaert's pitch 62 yards for a touchdown. Mark Dixon's kick was good and Salem was back in business with a 7-7 tie.

The Rocks were just getting started. They went ahead for good early in the second quarter when Scott Jurek intercepted a mis-thrown Farmington pass at the 10 and ran it back 90 yards for a second touchdown and a 14-7 lead, after Dixon's kick, at halftime.

The third quarter was all Rocks, as Salem scored the next three times it gained possession of the ball. Jurek capped a 58-yard drive with a 1-yard run; David Haut hit Dave Hutton with an 11 yard pass and Jurek ran 2 yards for the Rocks' final score.

David Houle, who found himself surrounded by Farmington players for most of the evening, broke loose to catch a 43-yard pass from Haut to set up Jurek's second score and to contribute to the Rocks 70 yards in the air.

Jim Sinclair aided the effort when he recovered a Farmington fumble on the 27 to set up Salem's last touchdown, and the win set up Friday's meeting with Bentley as a battle of the unbeaten.

While Bentley and Salem may be unfamiliar teams to the Western Lakes membership, they are not strangers to each other. The two squads have battled for the past 12 years and each time Salem has come out in front, but Moshimer doesn't count on that record prevailing without some effort.

Already, Monday, he was making some changes, setting up for Bentley. He has some hard decisions to make, most notably which of three quarterbacks will start — Steyaert, Haut or Marty Tindall — who came through with his second straight impressive performance.

Or, consider the problem of having to pick a prime ball carrier, when 10 different runners, led by Bunch with 72 yards in three carrier and Jurek, with 35 yards in eight, picked up yardage in Salem's 210 yard ground effort.

That effort was not lost on the coaching staff. Even Moshimer admitted the Rocks would be hard to stop. "I'm not sure how a team would stop our offense," Moshimer said candidly. "I would hate to play a wishbone team that can execute."

JILL MLSNA

Jill Mlsa 'to spike' at Albion

Albion College junior Jill Mlsa of Belleville is a member of the 1982 Albion volleyball team.

Under the leadership of the new head coach Marty Andrews, the women spikers plan to make a big improvement over last year's sixth place finish in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association.

The team is fairly young with eight of the 12 members being either freshmen or sophomores. Andrews says the team has good depth. "All 12 of the players are about even in skills. We will be competitive with everyone in the league," Andrews said. Initially, Andrews hopes to do a little better than 500 in the conference.

Mlsa is the daughter of Suzanne Mlsa, 16200 Haggerty Rd., and a 1980 graduate of Belleville High School.

Albion, founded in 1835 and located in the south central Michigan town of the same name, is a privately supported co-educational liberal arts college related to the United Methodist Church.

It's more than 1800 students come from 32 states and 16 foreign countries. Accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, Albion also is a member of the Great Lakes Colleges Association (GLCA), a consortium of liberal arts colleges in Michigan, Indiana and Ohio.

Albion's "Briton" athletic teams compete in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association (MIAA), as well as in NCAA.

Outstanding duo

Former area prep football stars Stan Snider (at left) and Randy Pichan were key performers in last week's Grand Valley State's 32-15 victory over Wayne State University. Snider, a 6-3, 225-pound ex-Salem all-conference grinder, was named "Offensive Player of the Week", while Pichan, who hails from New Boston Huron, earned the accolades on defense. Grand Valley State set a record with the victory over the Tartars. It was their 10th consecutive conference win, the longest victory string by any team in the league. They'll put a 2-0 league record on the line Saturday when they clash with Northern Michigan, also undefeated in the league.

Tigers settle for scoreless tie

This is the second year for a Van Buren Township all-girl under-ten team, although half of the Tiger team are still first season players. Many coaches and parents have been surprised at how well the girls are doing, and give much of the credit to coach Rose Cheedie.

Even though this is Cheedie's first year as a soccer coach, she is able to inspire the girls. "All the way up, kiddo", "Attack the ball, girls," she instructs from the sidelines. And the Tigers respond with vigor and enthusiasm.

The players and Ms. Cheedie hope that more girls will sign up for soccer. There are only 12 players on the Tiger's team and, while it gives the players a lot of practice, they'd like to have a larger team.

For more information about Van Buren Township soccer call Ed. Dubin at 699-1026.

'Lesson in futility' 3 fumbles bury Canton at Harrison

Three quarters of futility finished Plymouth Canton's chances of stopping a high-powered Farmington Garrison football team last week as Coach Rich Barr's Chiefs dropped a lopsided 38-7 decision to their Western Lakes Conference rivals.

Canton surprised Harrison by scoring early in the game on a 16-yard pass from quarterback Pat Murphy to junior tight end Bob Wasczenski which culminated in an 80-yard drive the second time the Chiefs has possession of the ball. Matt Santilli kicked the extra point.

However, the drive was to be the only touchdown of the game for the visitors who found themselves struggling the rest of the battle.

Harrison took the ensuing kickoff and marched 76-yards and scored on the 14th play in the series with Bob Blackmire plunging into the Chiefs' end zone from the one. The PAT was good and the score was tied at 7-all.

Then, after Harrison kicked off to their visitors, the Chiefs obliged by fumbling inside their 20, and six plays later Blackmire scored from the three to give the hosts the lead for good (13-7).

"Turnovers killed us," moaned Barr who has to contend with Walled Lake Western Friday night at home. "We gave them (Harrison) their second and third TDs. They were direct results of our own mistakes. And you can't commit errors against a team like that and not expect to pay for them."

Canton had a chance to narrow the margin of defeat early in the third quarter when they marched to the Harrison one-yard line where they turned the ball over on a fumble. In fact, the Chiefs lost all three of their fumbles. Outrushed and outpassed, 148 to 289 (rushing) and 36 to 177 (passing), Canton recorded seven first downs to the winner's 14. Defensively, Canton's end, Dan Schacht, linebacker Dave Szary, tackle Dave Gerish and cornerback Santilli were standouts.

Coach Barr's Chiefs will try to even up their conference record — they're now 1-2 in the newly formed league — at the expense of Walled Lake which, the Canton mentor says, "is a team similar to ours."

"Their big weapon is tailback Paul Imms. We have to contain him in order to win this one. He carries the ball two-thirds of the time."

Barr noted however, that his team can't afford to make the mistakes of the past. "We will be able to play with them only if we can correct our mistakes. If we play the way we did against Harrison, we're in trouble."

Over 40 cagers, attention

A 40 and over half-court basketball league is now being formed in the Wayne-Westland area.

Rosters will consist of six men, 50 percent of whom must live in Wayne or Westland.
